The Best at the Price

You care to pay. So our fall Overcoats go. Carr's Treble Milled Meltons are world-renowned. The tailors reverence them, the trade dotes on them, we delight in them. They are the best Meltons made. The tide keeps constantly rising. We have never shown a handsomer line of Fall Top Coats. Kerseys and Meltons at their prettiest; wool and silk lined, some; others not. $12, $15, $16, $18, $20, $25 and $30, sizes 33 to 46. Blue, Black, Brown, Drab, Oxford, Gray Overcoats; various as the prices.

You'll walk through a mile of stores and you'll not match our Boy's clothing for anything; neither style nor quality, nor brightness, nor goodness. We don't mean it to either huff or vex. We are selling an amazing quantity of Boy's clothing. Crowded parts of the day; don't mind that, though. Distinguished clothing for Boys and Children at common prices is almost too good to believe. We've a little Boy's nobby reefer at $3.50; didn't have it until today.

Exquisite Fall Neckwear, part, 50c mostly, the finest, $1 and beyond.

Our Handsome House and Lot will be Given Away CHRISTMAS MORNING. Don't forget to get a ticket with every purchase.

RAN INTO 'FLAT CARS

A Freight Train on the Big Four Road Was Wrecked at Edgewood, O., This Morning.

The Engine Lifted From its Trucks and the Tender Thrown Down a Steep Embankment.

Three Tramps Pinned in the Wreckage and Two of Them Were Boiled to Death.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—At 5:30 this morning freight train No. 63 on the Big Four railroad ran into three loaded flat cars at Edgewood. The engine was lifted bodily from its trucks and the tender thrown down a thirty-foot embankment. On the front of the first car in the train three tramps from Columbus were riding. They were pinned in the wreckage and two of them boiled to death by escaping steam. The other was fearfully crushed about the head and breast and was taken from the debris only to die shortly afterward.

The wreck train was summoned and the crew began the work of clearing the track. While prying a car off the rails, a tie flew up and struck William Hobusch in the pit of the stomach. It is thought he is fatally injured.

The names of the killed are: Joe Jordan, chainmaker, of Columbus, O.; James Murphy, foundryman, Columbus; and Joseph Blanch. Injured: Frank Broffman, Vanwert, Ohio, both legs broken; R. M. Hughes, operator at Edgewood, leg broken; William Hobusch, section hand, internally injured.

Superintendent Gibson, of the Big Four, places the blame on the switch engine crew. They had run three loaded cars on the main track and had gone back on the siding for more cars, thus trespassing on the fast freight's time.

TWO CRANKS IN WASHINGTON.

They Both Were Very Anxious to See President Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The police department yesterday learned the identity of the crank who gave the name of Joseph Washington when arrested nearly a week ago for trying to force his way into the executive mansion. His brother, John Gault, a merchant of Tacoma, Pa., recognized a description of the unfortunate given in the papers and wired Maj. Moore that he will arrive today to take his brother back to Pennsylvania with him. He also gives the information that the imprisoned man's name is Joseph Gault, the same name written on the bottom tag of the shirt he was wearing when arrested.

Godlieb Spiller, the crank arrested Saturday because he wanted to make a Mason of President Cleveland and then have the president present his claim of $150,000,000 against the government, was known at his boarding place in this city as Spiegel. He was rational at intervals yesterday and talked freely. He is a native of Germany, where his mother still lives, and has a brother in business in New York. He was confined in a New York insane asylum for a long time, but released as cured several months ago. His relatives will be notified.

A SUNDAY OF TRAGEDIES.

One Murder, Two Probable Murders and a Case of Manslaughter.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Four tragedies disturbed the peace of Washington yesterday. One was a case of murder, two were probable murders, and the fourth a case of manslaughter.

John E. Shoemaker, white, a respectable young farmer, with a wife and three children, while drunk, killed a negro named Thomas Matthews near Tennallytown, a suburb of Washington. James Owen, white, was dismembered by an unknown colored man on North Capitol street and will probably die.

Solomon Jackson, colored, was badly mangled in Trumble court, there being no clue to his assailant, and he is not expected to live, and Elwood R. Reed, colored, was instantly killed by a bullet from Sergeant Kenny's revolver, the shot being fired in the nick of time to prevent Reed from plunging a knife into the body of Officer Skinner, who was attempting to arrest the negro for theft.

HOW THE MONEY WAS FOUND.

The True Story of the Recovery of Money Stolen From a Train.

CALUMET, Mich., Oct. 2.—The true story of the recovery of the entire $70,000 stolen from the Mineral Range train Sept. 15 has just come out. It will be remembered that Shoupe and Winters, two railway employees at Marquette, were arrested and then released. They stole the money from LaLiberte's trunk and LaLiberte knew it, but could say nothing without giving himself away. After his arrest and confession the two men were implicated and arrested. They were offered a reward and their liberty if they would confess and reveal the whereabouts of the money. The offer was accepted, and the money found buried in the ground four miles north of Marquette.

May Close the Fair.

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Director General George R. Davis returned last night from Washington, D. C., and, while he had no conversation with President Cleveland on the subject, he gave it as his opinion that if the president could so shape his executive and private life he would be in Chicago to officially close the fair. An invitation to the president to do this will probably be extended by means of a special committee. World's fair officials within a short time.

BISMARCK IS VERY ILL.

Lack of Appetite Now Retarding His Recovery.

KISSINGEN, Oct. 2.—As is usual in the cases of aged convalescents, it is hard to determine from one day to another what Prince Bismarck's condition will be. It is certain that his last illness has left permanent marks upon him, and it is doubtful if he will ever recover his usual health and strength.

His progress towards recovery has been again retarded by the entire failure of his appetite. He will now scarcely touch food. The reports that he had suffered an attack of paralysis are borne out by the fact that his right hand is apparently completely useless. He salutes with his left hand and is even compelled to sign his name with that hand. His aged in looks very much since his sickness and in appearance is very decrepit.

It is impossible for him to enter or leave his carriage without assistance and whenever he goes driving two men servants help him out and into the carriage. The prince complains that he is afflicted with pain day and night. Altogether he is much broken.

Count Herbert Bismarck, the prince's son, says that his father's illness was brought on by his taking a half-hour bath when the temperature was 28 degrees Reaumur, and afterwards standing bareheaded for fifteen minutes receiving the deputation from Frankfurt that visited him on Aug. 27.

The Prince's Departure.

LEIPZIG, Oct. 2.—The Leipziger Nachrichten publishes today a dispatch from Kissingen stating that Dr. Schweiniger has fixed Wednesday next as the day of the departure of Prince Bismarck from Kissingen. The prince and his party will leave at midday. The train on which they will travel will not stop at Berlin. The party will arrive at Friedrichshagen at 11 o'clock Wednesday night.

PRENTICE IS BEATEN.

United States Circuit Court of Appeals Today Made a Final Decision in Prentice's Case.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 2.—[Special to The Herald.]—The United States circuit court of appeals today affirmed the decision of the lower court in the case of Frederick Prentice, appellant, vs. The Duluth Storage and Forwarding company et al. This settles the case against Prentice finally.

THE DECISION AFFIRMED.

Important Decree by United States Court of Appeals.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 2.—The United States circuit court of appeals this morning handed down their decisions, one of national importance—that of the Trans-Missouri Freight association, which association is charged with the Sherman anti-trust act as illegal.

In the court below, which was the United States circuit court for the district of Kansas, the plaintiff in the case appealed to the United States circuit court of appeals, and the decision of the court below is this morning affirmed. The matter was argued last spring in St. Paul before Judge Sanborn, Shiras and Thayer, who were sitting in the case.

The opinion is written by Judge Sanborn, Judge Thayer concurring and Judge Shiras dissenting. The opinion itself is very voluminous and there is given a complete syllabus covering the points of the decision. The decision of the lower court was in favor of the Trans-Missouri Freight association.

HINTS OF A ROMANCE.

A Little Spaniard Whose Case is Receiving Attention.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Fred Small went over to Ellis island this morning to see whether he must be sent home to the United States of Colombia or to Trinidad. He is a subject of the latter island, and is accompanied by Officer O'Brien, of the Eighteenth district. Fred Small is a funny little colored fellow 20 years old, who has very black hair and sharp black eyes, incipient growth of beard on each side of his face and talks English and Spanish equally well.

He says he is a British subject and tells a story which hints of a romance in the life of a Spanish heiress of 19 and a middle-aged bridegroom who are now in Chicago visiting the fair. Fred Small says that since he was a child he has been in the household of Mistress Alene Gonzales, who is the beautiful bride in question.

Used the Bank's Funds.

HUNTINGDON, Tenn., Oct. 2.—The Bank of Carroll, the oldest bank of the city, has failed. Cashier R. F. Truslow acknowledges using $5000 of the bank's funds. The county funds are locked up and the public schools are forced to close. Truslow has turned over all his property.

Banks to Reopen.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The following national banks which recently suspended payment have been permitted to reopen for business: The Kentucky National bank, of Louisville; the Farmers' National bank, of Findlay, O.; and the Union National bank, of Rochester, Minn.

Object to the Reduction.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 2.—The employees of the Oliver Iron and Steel works have been notified of a general reduction in wages from 10 to 20 per cent. The puddlers went on a strike today, refusing to accept the reduction offered them of 50 cents per ton, or $4.50 per ton for boiling iron.

Koetting Failed to Appear.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 2.—John R. Koetting, cashier of the failed South Side Savings bank, under indictment for illegal banking, failed to appear in court this morning and his bond of $15,000 was declared forfeited. Koetting was recently brought from Denver, after much trouble, and put under bonds to appear.

THE STORIES DIFFER.

The Brazilian Government Says That the Crews of the Rebel Warships Are Deserting Daily.

Two Steamers That Tried to Land Insurgents at Santos and Santa Catharina Were Repulsed.

Other Advances Say That Fire Was Reopened Yesterday Upon the Forts Defending Rio Janeiro.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The Brazilian legation in this city today furnished to the United Press the following information received in despatches from the government of Rio Janeiro bearing date of Oct. 1: "The insurgent squadron under command of Admiral Mello is still in the bay of Rio Janeiro, its fighting elements weakened. Many of the members of the crews of the rebel warships are deserting daily. During the recent engagements between the land forces and the fleet the shore artillery damaged some of the rebel vessels. Two steamers that attempted to land insurgents at Santos and on the island of Santa Catharina were repulsed. The land forces are united and loyal to the government. Public opinion is also opposed to the insurgents."

A dispatch received by the Exchange telegraph company says that Admiral Mello, who commands the insurgent Brazilian fleet, yesterday reopened fire upon the forts defending the bay of Rio Janeiro. The dispatch adds that the bombardment continued without cessation throughout the day.

Provisions in Rio Janeiro are selling at famine prices. Panic among the inhabitants again prevails.

WILL TRY TO DOWN DORAN.

Ex-Mayor Winston, of Minneapolis, Plotting With Baldwin and Hall.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—[Special to The Herald.]—Ex-Mayor Winston, of Minneapolis, is in Washington and today he had a long conference with Representatives Baldwin and Hall.

It is presumed this trio is endeavoring to concoct some plan to prevent Michael Doran securing all the Minnesota appointments in the future.

SWITCHMEN ON A STRIKE.

Serious Tie Up on Various Roads Centering at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 2.—All of the switchmen in the Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern yards are out today and only one yard engine is being worked. It is in charge of the trainmaster. The coal heavers, wipers, section men and men in the shops are also out.

The switchmen on the Louisville, New Orleans & Texas and Illinois Central have refused to handle Chesapeake & Ohio cars and they have gone out. The switchmen in the Memphis & Chattanooga, it is understood, will strike today and it is stated by the strikers that the switchmen in the rest of the roads centering here will go out before night.

This statement is hardly true as to the Louisville & Nashville, as none of them attended the meeting last night. The Chesapeake, Ohio & Southwestern yards are being guarded by policemen and deputy sheriffs. There is no disorder.

The Rio Grande Trouble.

DENVER, Oct. 2.—A. B. Youngson, assistant chief, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, F. P. Sargent, grand master Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and T. T. Sargent, vice grand master Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, arrived here from the East late last night. They will take up the subject of the switchmen in the case of the railway trouble today. It is believed the differences between the Rio Grande and its employees will be amicably adjusted.

There May Be Trouble.

TUSKALOOGA, La., Oct. 2.—The Choctaw county covered by the Choctaw and the largest attendance of outsiders ever known. If any precincts are unlawfully thrown out, serious trouble is sure to be the result. Captain Guthrie said in this morning with United States soldiers to prevent trouble if possible. The votes of the last election will likely be counted tomorrow and that is when the trouble is expected to begin.

Miners Quit Work.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2.—It is reported here that 2,500 miners in Macon county, Mo., had quit work this morning and were holding a conference at Ardmore in regard to striking for the old winter's scale of wages, the mine owners having served notice that there would be no advance this year.

Pul Out of Blast.

EASTON, Pa., Oct. 2.—The Keystone furnace at Chain Dam, owned by the Thomas Iron company, is being put out of blast. This was the last furnace but one in blast between Phillipsburg, N. J., and Allentown, Pa. The Keystone will be repaired before it is again put in blast.

The Danish Parliament.

COPENHAGEN, Oct. 2.—The rigsdag, the parliament of Denmark, opened at 1 o'clock this afternoon. There was no speech from the throne opening the session.

Viking May Come.

The ship Viking may visit Duluth. Capt. Magnus Anderson has gone to St. Paul to see if arrangements can be made with the railroad company for transporting the boat from Duluth to the Mississippi river at St. Paul. If this can be done it will be brought here and remain for some time, after which it will be transferred to the Mississippi and remain there all winter.

THE SENATORS TALKING YET.

Mr. Kyle, of South Dakota, Speaks in Opposition to Repeal.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—In the senate this morning there was a bare quorum. A bill to give settlers on the public lands in Oklahoma Territory another year in which to make their first payments on the land was reported from the committee on public lands and was passed.

The silver purchase repeal bill was taken up and Mr. Kyle rose to address the senate; but yielded to Mr. Dubois. Mr. Dubois complained of a statement made by Mr. Gorman last week as to his resolution for the postponement of the repeal bill being offered for the purpose of delay. He denied that statement and said he was in no place for obstruction. Mr. Washburn spoke as to the absurdity of the proposed postponement, particularly in view of the fact that two senators representing two of the states mentioned in the resolution were in favor of the unconditional repeal of the Sherman act.

On being challenged by Mr. Wolcott to name the two states, Mr. Washburn responded promptly by mentioning Washington and Wyoming. The authority for the statement was demanded by Dubois, and it was promptly given by Mr. Washburn, who said that he had been informed by the senator from Washington (Mr. Squire) that he would vote for the unconditional repeal of the Sherman act.

The House.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The federal election repeal bill was taken up in the house this morning before a very small audience, and Mr. Dinsmore (Democrat of Arkansas) took the floor in its advocacy. He was followed by Mr. Denon, (Democrat of Alabama), in favor of repeal.

An Iron Pioneer.

George C. Stone, of St. Paul, is visiting his brother, William R. Stone. Duluth people will never forget that Mr. Stone was the first man to develop the great iron mining industry of St. Louis county. Years ago, even long before the mines at Tower were discovered, Mr. Stone interested capitalists and started explorations upon the Mesabi range, but he was denied further aid when at the point of success. Undismayed he persevered, and finally, through his instrumentality, the now famous Vermilion mines were discovered and explored. Mr. Stone had a hard fight to secure capital enough to make his discovery a success by building a road to the mines, but he finally triumphed over all difficulties and secured for St. Louis county the proud position of the banner iron producing county in the Lake Superior district, if not in the whole of the Union.

The Charleston Company Meeting.

At a special meeting of the Charleston Iron company held on Saturday, A. E. Humphreys was re-elected president; William Buckley, vice-president and general manager; W. L. Jackson, secretary and treasurer; and Moses Stewart, Jr., and James McKinley as directors. The old lease of the Buckley property was cancelled, Mr. Buckley giving the company full release for royalty now due. Money will be raised as soon as possible to develop the lands in 58 1/2 adjoining the Adams mine.

Held Up in Daylight.

James Williams was held up this morning under the Sixth avenue viaduct by two men. They tried to induce him to participate in some "skin" game and when he refused took his money, about $16, by force. The police arrested John Hanberg and William Raymond for the offense.

Was Badly Damaged.

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 2.—About 136 frames are broken on the steamer Merida as the result of her being ashore in the Sault river. The break in her bottom is a bad one. The survey is not yet finished.

Seven Persons Killed.

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—The Gold Dragon, a hotel at Konigsgraber, a resort of Rhine tourists, a short distance below Drachenfels, a noted mountain, collapsed today, killing seven persons.

Shot by a Tramp.

MASON CITY, Ia., Oct. 2.—Policeman Tim O'Brien, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul force was shot, and killed by a tramp this morning. No arrests have been made, but officers and citizens are in pursuit of the murderer.

A SUIT

Of Clothes is as hard for some men to buy as a Fall Bonnet for a woman. They'll try on a dozen or more—walk up and down in front of a glass—throw out their chests—stand as erect as a dummy—and tell what "Tailor Sew and Sew" said about their elegant shape.

Well, gentlemen, you're privileged characters in our store. You're welcome to look—to try on, to admire yourself in the glass—to buy or not, as you like. Whether you want a suit or a suit for $15 the welcome "goes" just the same. Have you noticed the new Suit Window today. Notice that elegant Suit in the east side marked $7.00? Think you can better it for five dollars more? Try it. Catch on to those $15 Suits! Every one of them worth $20 or more. That double-breasted Suit marked $10 is another good thing. That's a wearer, too. There are some forty Suits or more in the window today—every one marked with its price. They're like some good people you've met in your life—who improved on acquaintance.

FOR $5.00

MRS. BURROWS & CO.

CLOTHIERS AND OUTFITTERS.

ARE NOT HOME YET.

Yachting Aldermen Were Storm Bound Yesterday at Port Arthur.
At noon today the prospects for a council meeting this evening were very slim. The Nautilus, with the aldermanic party was storm bound at Port Arthur yesterday, and unless a good homeward start has been made, a quorum this evening will not be forthcoming.

There is little business of a pressing nature to be transacted, anyway. The pay-rolls and estimates, if ordered passed, could not be paid as this week City Treasurer Voss must send $60,000 East to pay interest and that amount will deplete the treasury tomorrow.

The election of a successor to Alderman Quinby is in order, but no steps in that direction will be taken until Alderman Hugo returns, and up to noon no one could say that he had returned.

The council could well give the ordinance providing for the issue of temporary loan certificates to the amount of $250,000 a second reading, but that will keep another week.

THE DISTRICT COURT.

Angelo De Fabia on Trial Today for the Shooting of Solemina A. Short Some Time Ago.

The Revolver Looked Rather Murderous and Judge Lewis Ordered the Cartridges to be Extracted.

Ethel Sherry Arraigned in the Municipal Court for Forgery and Uttering Forged Paper.

Angelo De Fabia is on trial today for the shooting of Mrs. Solemina and Judge Lewis' room is crowded with dusky sons of Italy. Angelo is a large, powerful and rather handsome fellow, seemingly above the average intelligence. He boarded with the Soleminas and a dispute arose as to his bill. It is alleged that Angelo took a revolver from his trunk and fired, the ball taking effect in Mrs. Solemina's groin. The revolver was shown in court this morning—a big, black, murderous looking weapon. Mr. Davies handled it very gingerly and kept the muzzle turned to take any chances and directed the officer to take the gun outside and draw the load. At noon the state had not pressing business and the trial is likely to last all day.

Friday a jury was drawn in the case of F. W. Paine against Josiah B. Scovell and plaintiff's counsel made his opening statement. This morning one of the jurors, R. C. Mitchell, was released by consent of all parties on the plea of pressing business and another juror was drawn to fill his place.

The two cases of First National bank, Connersville, Ind., against Faye Walker et al. has been dismissed by stipulation.

A WOMAN IN TROUBLE.
Ethel Sherry charged with Forgery and Uttering Forged Paper.

Ethel Sherry, said to be a former resident of Brainerd, is in the toils of the law on two charges, one of forgery in the second degree and another for uttering forged paper. The young woman, so it is said, was hard up and wanted money for immediate use. She went to W. B. Patton, the surveyor, who is an old acquaintance of the woman's family. She told him that she owned a man named Hartmann over at Superior and that trouble would fall upon her if prompt payment was not made. Patton gave her a check for $20, payable to "L. H. Hartmann," which was to be returned to the drawer if the creditor did not call for his money.

Instead of turning the paper over to Hartmann, the woman went to the Spalding hotel and asked the clerk, E. F. Barto, to cash the check. He told her that it must be endorsed by Hartmann. That was on Friday. The woman then, it is alleged, signed Hartmann's name on the back of the paper and received the money. On Saturday, Hartmann was in town and the fact that his name had been unlawfully endorsed to the check was found out.

A warrant was at once sworn out and last evening, Deputy Sheriff Bates made the arrest on the Sixth avenue west viaduct. After the arrest the woman got away from the officer and attempted to jump over the viaduct railing, apparently wishing to commit suicide by dropping into the tracks, thirty feet below. Deputy Sheriff Bates quickly grabbed her by the foot and pulled her back to safety, after which she was taken to jail.

The woman, who, aside from the name of Sherry, is called Mrs. Whitman, claims that she did not know that it was wrong to sign Hartmann's name and that if any disgrace results to her from the act, she will kill herself. Her father, who resides at Brainerd, has been telegraphed to G. G. Hartley, of this city, an old friend of the family and speaks favorably of the prisoner.

In police court this morning Ethel Sherry was arraigned on the two charges. She pleaded not guilty and the judge set the examination for Friday next.

Kate Brooks, a woman with gray hair, was charged with the charge of petit larceny. The defendant said that she stole part of the woodwork to a sleigh belonging to Charles Craspe and valued at $1.50. The defendant said that she didn't do it. Judge Powell released her on her own recognizance until Thursday morning, when the truth will be sifted out.

Richard Dexter and Valentine Jaketo were found guilty of drunkenness and given ten days in the county jail. John Mulcahey was up for the thirtieth offense. Sixty days were given him. Alexander Cook, up for disorderly conduct, pleaded not guilty. His trial was set for the afternoon session.

The case of the state against Clarke and Gregg, the insurance swindlers, was continued by mutual consent until 2 p. m. tomorrow.

CONTEST DISMISSED.

Charles Smith Gets No Satisfaction From the Interior Department.

Another decision in a case connected with the famous section 30 has bobbed up, this time the decision coming from Secretary Hoke Smith himself. This case is entitled: Charles Smith, contestant, vs. Francis De Vine, and Thomas Meredith, contestants. The following persons are cited as parties to the suit: Francis, Sarah Devine, Jacob R. Myers, Jennie A. Myers, David T. Adams, May Adams, Herman Nunnenmacher, Frieda Nunnenmacher, H. M. Benjamin, Matilda Benjamin, J. A. Boggs, Henrietta Boggs, Fred Huntres, Samuel C. Brown, Moses O'Brien, Frank R. Weber, H. Truesden, William P. Jewett, James Marston, Thomas Meredith, Mariah Meredith, E. M. Roberts, attorney-in-fact for Meredith, "Syndicate Land company," Amos Shepard, Clara Shepard, H. Nunnenmacher, O. D. Kinney and J. K. Newell.

The land involved is the sec. 1 of sw. 1/4 of section 30; the ne. 1/4 of nw. 1/4 and 7. section 31, 65-11. A part of the township 141 S. 12 E. is included in this. The contest is dismissed, the decision sustaining the commissioner and reversing the decision of the local officers.

Land Office Notes.

Swamp land patents, Nos. 30 and 31 in approved lists 25 and 26, were signed Sept. 23, so the local land office has been advised by the Washington office.

Louis H. Gross has been granted a patent for the ex. of the nw. 1/4 and the 1/2 of the ne. 1/4 of section 11, 66-21. The land was entered under a military bounty warrant.

J. L. Anderson, lately of Guthrie, O. T., has been assigned duty as a special agent at the local land office. He has been confirmed to his room with sickness for some days, Mr. Anderson evidently is sent to assist him in his duties.

The administration ax has fallen again in Duluth. This time H. McHarg, the "register's clerk" in the local land office is the victim.

Orders were recently received to cut down the force one and as McHarg is a Republican, having secured his position by the grace of a Republican administration, Register Taylor has let him out and advanced C. B. King, a good Democrat and a competent clerk, to the shoes and desk lately occupied by Mr. McHarg.

Tomorrow the plat of survey for township 61-23 will be filed and applications from settlers received. On Wednesday 61-24 will also be opened for settlement. Those who are posted say that the two townships contain only about twenty desirable claims, and that squatters have occupied those for four or five years. It is expected that timber and stone applicants will in every case file over the pre-emptors and homesteaders.

TERRIBLE STORM

One of the Worst Storms Which Ever Visited Louisiana Struck it Last Sunday Night.

Twenty-four or More Persons Were Killed and Probably Three Times as Many Wounded.

Wind Reached a Velocity of One Hundred Miles an Hour and Swept Everything Before It.

Probable That Mortality Will be Greatly Increased When News Comes From Far-Away Settlements.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—The Sun's special from New Orleans says: A terrible storm struck New Orleans last Sunday night coming from the northeast and raged here all night and part of yesterday, sweeping to the south from here along the line of the Mississippi river, through the parish of Plaquemine, to the Gulf.

The storm was one of the worst which ever visited this part of the country, and as far as can be learned from reports for more persons were killed and probably three times as many wounded, some of them fatally.

The wind had reached a velocity of forty-eight miles an hour at 8 o'clock Sunday night, when the anemometer of the weather bureau was destroyed, and it constantly increased in force until 2 a. m., when its velocity was estimated at sixty miles an hour. The crash of sheds and buildings blown down, trees torn up and houses unroofed, caused intense alarm, and most of the population of the city remained up all night expecting their houses to be blown down.

Among the buildings destroyed was the Saratoga street market, which crushed several buildings in its fall. The Burdette street mission church, the cotton yard sheds of the Northeastern railroad, Coleman's boiler shop, the Pythian hotel and a number of other buildings were unroofed.

The levee on Lake Pontchartrain, which protects New Orleans from overflow on the rear, was washed away, the waters sweeping over it fifteen feet or more. Many of the yachts there were sunk or injured. The tracks of the Louisville and Nashville railroad was badly washed for fifteen miles and it will be several days before it can run trains.

Three deaths and one person wounded severely, if not fatally, is the mortality record in New Orleans.

Below the city it was far worse, especially in Plaquemine. Here the wind velocity of 100 to 125 miles an hour, sweeping everything before it, the parish seat of justice, Pointe a la Hache, a town of 2000 people, was the worst.

In that town not a single house escaped injury. The court house and Catholic church, the principal buildings in the town, and some twenty other buildings were destroyed, and the situation was so threatening before the greater part of the people, fearing destruction in their buildings, camped out in the street all night in heavy rain.

The air was filled with debris and the wind blowing so fiercely that many of them had to anchor themselves against the trees to prevent being blown away. Four grown people are known to be killed in Pointe a la Hache, and several children. How many is not exactly known. Among the killed are: Mrs. Leon La Franche, wife of one of the leading merchants of the town, and Mrs. L. Vanders, wife of a well known lawyer.

It is probable that the mortality will be greatly increased when news is received from the far away settlements on the Gulf coast, below Pointe a la Hache, in the orange country of Louisiana. The crop was ripe upon the trees and about to be harvested. It was completely destroyed in the storm with a loss of $350,000 on this one item.

Telegraphic communication was cut with nearly all places yesterday. Skills were sent out in the swamps about Lake Pontchartrain, and forty persons were rescued who were in more or less danger from the storm. The storm came from the north and northeast and southwesterly direction. The sugar district escaped the worst of the blow. There is much damage to the rice and sugar cane.

Work for One Thousand.
BELLVILLE, Ohio, Oct. 3.—The big Riverside Steel plant at Benwood, W. Va., opposite here, employing about 1000 hands, started this morning after a three months' shut down. Reductions of from 15 to 30 per cent were made, all told. Hungarians and Italians who participated in the riot there two weeks ago were discharged and Americans given their places. Only two foreigners are now employed at the works.

An Old Pioneer Dead.
ST. LOUIS, Oct. 3.—Hon. Erastus Wells, aged 70 years, one of the best known citizens of this city, died of locomotor ataxia last night. Mr. Wells owned and operated the first omnibus line west of the Mississippi river. He served as a member of congress for four consecutive terms, retiring March 4, 1877. He was the pioneer in the matter of opening up the territory of Oklahoma, having introduced the original bill in the Forty-fourth congress.

A BAD FIRE AT CANTON.

Immense Car Barns of an Electric Road Burned.

CANTON, Ohio, Oct. 3.—Fire last night destroyed the immense car barns of the Canton-Massillon Electric Railway company. Workmen were eating supper at 12:40 when a light was noticed. They rushed into the barn, but oil on the floor made the fire scatter quickly.

The barn was filled with motor and trail cars. The engine was not running, and in a few minutes the feed wires from the power house burned off, so no power to get the cars out could be had.

Seventeen motor cars, including the Canton City cars and three big inter-urban cars, were burned besides trail cars and other valuable property.

Firemen saved the power house, and by a hard fight saved Dick's big agricultural works, which was badly scorched. The origin of the fire is a mystery. A few Canton cars and a couple of inter-urban cars were at Massillon, and some electric cars here.

Sixty men are thrown out of employment. The loss will go beyond $100,000; insurance about half. Six hundred dollars worth of plate glass in F. J. Hen skin's new building was broken; no insurance.

A RIVER ON A TEAR.

Heavy Rains in Kansas Flooded the Canadian River.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 3.—Heavy rains have fallen during the past twenty-four hours in the Pan Handle country, and as a result the Canadian river is on a tear. The bridge on the Fort Worth & Denver road, 324 feet in length, and a part of the approaches has gone out.

The Santa Fe's Southern Kansas division has a heavy washout between Cochran and Canadian on the Pan-Handle, and Sunday night the bridge at Purcell on the Gulf division went out.

The bridge on the Rock Island crossing near Minco, Okla., also went out Sunday night. A stick of timber remains. Construction gangs are at work repairing the damage.

The Missouri, Kansas & Texas road was the only one open to the north last night and fears are expressed that the bridges at the Canadian crossing near Eufula will go out.

HAD A WONDERFUL ESCAPE.

The Remarkable Experience of a Woman and Two Children.

NEVADA, Mo., Oct. 3.—Yesterday afternoon while a train on the Missouri Pacific railway was approaching Rich Hill, Mo., the engineer discovered a woman and two little children crossing a thirty-foot trestle. He sounded the whistle and applied the brakes but was unable to stop the train.

The woman jumped and escaped with slight bruises. Brakeman Hartschorn endeavored to seize the children, but they, aged 5 and 6 years respectively, but unavailingly. They were knocked over when the train was stopped.

The entire train of thirty-eight cars passed over them, but when the trainmen were told by a passenger that the children were under the train, they remained, both children were found unhurt.

Lynching of a Negro.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Oct. 3.—A negro named Fadden, alias Jake Stokes, a negro who attempted to assault Miss Sallie Dubois, the 16-year-old daughter of S. C. Dubois, was hanged yesterday.

Saturday, was captured Sunday night near that place. He was identified by Miss Dubois and after being given ten minutes to pray, was hanged yesterday.

Kinney yesterday gave a preliminary injunction by default against the Electric Appliance company and the D'Unger Electrical Telephone Manufacturing company.

A Theater Burned.

OMAHA, Oct. 3.—The Farnham Street theater was burned yesterday afternoon. The building was of brick, 77 by 132 in size and was four stories high in front and five in the rear. On the first floor was a number of stores, the stocks of which were ruined. The total loss is estimated at $250,000. Six persons, five of them firemen, were injured by falling walls. The opera house, which occupies the four floors above the first, was insured for $90,000 and was worth $200,000.

An Explorer Murdered.

VIENNA, Oct. 3.—The Times correspondent in Paris says the last mail from Madagascar reports that George S. Muller, the explorer, sent out by the French government on a scientific mission, has been murdered between Antananarivo, the capital of the island, and Majunga. Influenza is epidemic in Antananarivo. Fully a third of the cases prove fatal.

Fatal Jealousy.

FIERCE BATTLE

A Force of More Than Six Thousand Moors Attacked a Spanish Garrison in Morocco.

The Spanish Troops Fought All Day Without Food or Aid Being Sent to Them.

Eighteen of the Spaniards Were Killed and Thirty-five Wounded, Including Three Officers.

A Spanish Man-of-War is to be Sent to Tangier to Demand Instant Reparation.

MADRID, Oct. 3.—Further trouble has broken out between the Moors and the Spanish garrison at Melilla, a town on the northern coast of Morocco. The Spanish authorities recently decided to add to the strength of their fortifications at Melilla, the state of the country, and the acts of the natives, in their opinion warranting such a course. The work of constructing additional fortifications was begun and pushed forward as rapidly as possible.

This incensed the Moors, and yesterday morning a force of more than 6000 natives made an attack upon the Spanish garrison that numbered all told not more than 400 souls. The Spanish troops fought throughout the day without relief being sent to them. They had no food, but this was a matter of small consequence to them, as they knew that death or slavery awaited them should they fall into the hands of their enemies.

The Moors were constantly gaining fresh accessions to their ranks and the outlook was becoming serious for the Spaniards, when the white residents of the town, without regard to nationality, offered to assist them. A militia corps was at once organized, and took part in the defense. They were greatly outnumbered by the Moors, however, and were finally compelled to retreat to the fortress, located on the outskirts of the town, where they are still besieged.

During the battle eighteen of the Spaniards were killed and thirty-five wounded, including three officers, whose injuries are serious. The Spanish artillery did great execution. The gunners at one time directed their fire upon a mosque and almost completely destroyed it. Other buildings in the range of their fire were also destroyed.

Northern Morocco has been greatly excited by the news of the attack upon the Spaniards, and the fanaticism of the inhabitants is directed by Mohammedan demands for revenge upon the "infidels" for destroying the mosque. The situation is critical and further attacks upon the garrison and civilians are expected.

The people of Madrid are angrily excited at the news from Melilla. The army and navy are being mobilized, and a strong punitive expedition is being organized. The government has announced that it will dispatch a war ship to Tangier to demand from the sultan full and instant reparation for the outrages upon the Spaniards.

The cabinet met today, and it is expected that orders will be issued for the sending forth to Melilla of a strong force to punish the Moors. The attacking Moors are chiefly members of the Kiff tribes, who inhabit the mountains in Northern Morocco, and over whom the control of the sultan is virtually nil. These natives have before attacked the garrison at Melilla, and it is thought nothing but the most exemplary punishment will induce them to leave the Spaniards alone.

To punish, however, will require the expenditure of large sums of money and much time, as upon the approach of the military force they retreat into their mountain fastnesses, from which it is almost an impossibility to dislodge them. The sultan himself has sent numerous expeditions against these tribes, but the honors between them and the government forces are, if anything, in favor of the mountaineers.

To Fight in Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Jack McAuliffe and Stanton Abbott signed articles of agreement at the Hoffman house last night to box six rounds at 130 pounds, weigh in at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the bout, the winner to take 60 per cent and the loser 40 per cent of the receipts. The affair will take place in six weeks at the Clermont avenue rink in Brooklyn.

Abbott has declined to sign the Olympic club's agreement for his fight with Bowen, the monetary conditions being severe.

Prince Bismarck's Condition.

KISSINGEN, Oct. 3.—Prince Bismarck's condition remains about the same. He passes most of his time lying upon a couch and reading novels and newspapers. The prince remarked to his physician, Dr. Schweininger, yesterday that the newspapers ought to be very grateful to him for giving them so much copy in the dull season. Dr. Schweininger is very indignant with the officials who are attempting to make a scapegoat of him in connection with Prince Bismarck's illness.

A TICKET AGENT IN TROUBLE.

Was Trying to Sell Tickets to a Scalper in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—M. M. O'Donnell, ticket agent for the Michigan Central railroad at Windsor, Ont., was arrested yesterday while attempting to sell Michigan Central tickets to a scalper on Clark street. On being taken to the station he was arrested and $500 worth of Michigan Central tickets were found on his person.

A week ago the ticket office of the Michigan Central in Windsor, Ont., was destroyed by fire during the night, and it was reported that thousands of dollars' worth of tickets were destroyed. While another office was being built, O'Donnell obtained permission to come to Chicago to see the fair.

The railway authorities, suspecting that all was not right, placed the matter in the hands of detectives with the above result. O'Donnell, who made no attempt to deny his guilt, left for Windsor, Ont., this morning accompanied by Detective Des Kosiers. The detectives believe O'Donnell has a large number of tickets hidden somewhere.

THE DOINGS OF CONGRESS.

Mr. Dolph's Speech on the Repeal Bill Continued Today.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—After the routine business in the senate an amendment to the silver purchasing repeal bill was offered by Mr. Morgan. It revises the free coinage act of 1873 and remits 20 per cent of the import duties on goods from countries which accept the American standard silver dollar. The repeal bill was taken up and Mr. Dolph continued his speech of last evening.

The House.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The house, without transacting any morning business, resumed the consideration of the federal election repeal bill, and was addressed by Mr. Northway, of Ohio, in opposition to the measure. He was in a fight, and in this fight the United States was the under-dog and the states were the upper-dog. He affirmed the constitutionality of the federal laws.

An Actor's Death.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—David Delaboe, the actor, better known to the theater-going world as David James, died in this city yesterday. He had long been a sufferer from a liver complaint.

WOMEN FILED FIRST.

Two of Them Were at the Head of the Line This Morning.

There was another grand rush to obtain filings upon lands in township 61 north of range 23 west. About 200 persons including two young ladies were roosting around the different offices in the Temple building this morning at 8:30 o'clock when acting Chief of Police James Thompson and his squad of blue-coats arrived on the scene. As upon previously each attorney took his clients in his office and those who had no filings to offer were made to stand back behind the "deadline" formed by the officers. As soon as all the starters in the race for the land office door the word go and over fifty men and two ladies started with a grand rush. It may have been chance, it may have been the innate chivalry of the men that gave the two ladies, Miss May Scarns and Miss Alice M. Hensley, the two first places at the head of the line, but there they were and there they stayed almost crushed out of sight, but laughing and good-humored to the end.

The register's clerk went down the line and gave the first forty-five numbers, so as to avoid any crush while the filings were being taken, and then the doors were opened and the two girls marched in, and in less than five minutes were the proud possessors of a claim to 160 acres of pine land apiece.

Township 61 north of range 23 west will be thrown open for filing claims and the same scenes will probably be repeated. Now that the system followed by the land officers is understood, there is no dissatisfaction expressed by anybody except a few of the perennially disgruntled speculators from Minneapolis.

The Decision Affirmed.

The United States court of appeals has handed down, through Judge Thayer, an opinion affirming that of Judge Nelson, of the circuit court, in the case of Germania fire company et al., appellants, vs. The United States of America. The case was brought by the United States to amend a patent issued through inadvertence on lands in the famous section 30 to Thomas B. Reed. Judge Nelson held that the patent should be cancelled.

Patents Received Today.

Patents were received at the land office today for the following persons: Edward D. Evans, Samuel McCammiss, Martha Roring, Maria C. Johnson, John O'Meara, Albert F. Gross and Andrew Johnson. Four final proofs were set for hearing today, but owing to the press of business it is doubtful whether they will be reached.

Received a Severe Shock.

If there are any denubers in the city about the painlessness of death by electricity, they should interview Lou Hines, the fireman of the Hartman company. He went to the Fabst and Schlitz beer cold storage house yesterday to fix an incandescent light. Somehow or other he received a shock that knocked him stiff.

Capt. Parson, the bookkeeper of the concern, realizing the situation, succeeded in breaking a connection and stopping the current. Hines was black in the face and was breathing at the mouth, but soon came to. His heart had nearly stopped beating but he says he felt no pain whatever until he came to.

Have Gold Specimens.

Some explorers have some fine specimens of quartz containing gold ore at the St. Louis. There is no mistake about the gold, as it can be seen by the naked eye and was taken from position by an entirely reliable business man of Duluth, the find is in St. Louis county. The same party has also some remarkable specimens of nickel ore from near the same locality.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.
Oct. 3.—A storm of slight energy has moved southeast from the far Northwest since yesterday and is now central over the northern part of Minnesota. No decided area of high barometer is shown on the charts, the pressure being below normal over the entire country with the exception of the extreme Southwest.
The temperature has fallen over all parts of the country shown by the reports received here, slightly over the Northwest and decidedly over the central portion. The high is 1.50
Duluth and Cincinnati, the lowest 25 at Illinois, S. D.

Rain has fallen in most parts of the country during the past twenty-four hours. The lowest was 1.4 inch at Indianapolis, Ind., and 1.01 at St. Louis, Mo.; at several other places over half an inch fell. It has cleared away except over Tennessee and Louisiana, where it still continues.
It is probable that the storm now over the northern part of this state will move northeast and not affect this part of the state and that the temperature will change very slightly tomorrow, when it will rise again. The rainfall here yesterday amounted to .25 of an inch.
The highest temperature yesterday was 52;
the lowest last night, 32.

The Truth About Silver.

Anybody who wants to learn the truth about the silver question should read David A. Wells' masterly article in the October Forum on "The Downfall of Certain Financial Fallacies." In this paper, by the meritorious application of cold logic, Mr. Wells proves that prices have declined owing to decreased cost of production or distribution and not because of the appreciation of gold; that such a decline, caused by economy and skill in manufacturing, is a blessing to any nation; that the primary cause of the decline in the value and use of silver was a conviction that it is not a money-metal suited to the conditions of a high civilization; that a new coinage-rate could never be maintained in the absence of immutable conditions of supply and demand; that a "cheap dollar" means fall for short wages, and that while gold as a medium of exchange must diminish in importance, it is constantly increasing in importance as a measure or verifier of values.

The fallacy of a cheap money is well exposed by Mr. Wells. The advocates of the extended use of silver as currency, he says, plant themselves also on what they regard as a fundamental principle; namely, that it is desirable to have cheap money. But as a matter of fact no commodity money (and all true money is a commodity), be it gold, silver, copper, iron, cattle or cabbage, can be relatively cheaper than another kind.
The value of each (if taken or taken or representative currency and minting is free) will depend upon the amount of labor embodied in it, or that will be required to purchase it, and no legislation can give it any other value.

If statute could make one metal or another commodity equal in value to another, argues Mr. Wells, the state that first adopted it of the opportunity would acquire boundless riches, and the dream of the alchemists would be realized. It requires $20,000,000 to supply an exclusively gold currency for the United States, and silver is depreciated to 50 per cent in value in comparison with gold, it will require $100,000,000 in silver to perform the same money work as gold; and it will require the same amount of commodities, or embodied labor, to buy the exclusively gold currency that it will to buy the exclusively silver currency.

A man who advocates the free coinage of silver for the purpose of obtaining cheap money, means, if he has any clear idea of what he is talking about, a depreciated dollar; which if left without any provision for redemption in gold, would be worth just what the bullion contained in it would buy in the open market; but which invested with legal tender ability becomes an instrument of rascality for the scaling of all obligations of indebtedness, wages, bonds, savings bank deposits, insurances, trust payments, pensions, and the like. There is no disputing the soundness of this argument, and Mr. Wells has performed a real service to the cause of a sound currency by this strong and convincing article, which should be in the hands of every voter.

A Telephone Revolution.
An English inventor claims that the days of the telephone in its present form are numbered, and that he has produced a machine that will entirely supplant those produced by Edison and Bell. The new talking apparatus says all it has to say in a tone loud enough for all in the room to hear and without the aid of any ear receiver. All the recipient of a message will have to do will be sit at his desk and listen while he holds in his hand a transmitter into which he speaks his replies to the person at the other end of the wire who is conversing with him.

The invention, he says, is not so much an improvement on the present telephone as a re-arrangement of the circuit so as to bring its resistance down to the lowest possible point. Under the plan adopted the induction coil has been discarded altogether, and the transmitter and receiver are directly connected in circuit with the line and battery. Two separate lines, having a common return wire, are used. By this means the parties carrying on the conversation may both talk freely at the same time without any interruption or jar in the conversation on account of the sounds meeting on the line. The transmitting apparatus is attached to flexible conductors, so that it is possible for the person using it to assume any position he may desire. When a conversation is to be opened all that is necessary is to pick up the transmitter and press a button, which at once establishes the circuit.

Keep the Band Tight.

Steps are being taken to arrange for a series of twelve concerts at the Lyceum theater for the benefit of the City band.
Professor Meier says that eight or ten of his best musicians will leave the band, as they can readily secure employment elsewhere during the winter, and it is therefore necessary that something should be done to keep this fine musical organization together. Duluth now has the finest band in Minnesota, and it has been steadily increasing in proficiency.
It is manifestly impossible to keep such excellent musicians unless they are paid for their services, and the ordinary demand for their services is insufficient.

The city council declined to make an appropriation for band concerts during the past summer, through a mistaken idea of its duty and in direct violation of the promises of individual aldermen that a grant would be made in order to retain Professor Meier's services. Several citizens have taken hold of the concert idea and it is believed that this plan may succeed in maintaining the band here.
It has been decided to charge an admission fee of only 25 cents, while season tickets for the twelve concerts will be sold for $2.50. The Herald trusts that the citizens will become liberal purchasers of season tickets so as to ensure the financial success of the concert in advance. The musical quality of the concerts will undoubtedly prove satisfactory to all.

Filled With Microbes.

If what the scientists say be true, the average man is more populous than the largest city. Recently an American scientist, who had been making special examinations of milk, announced that instead of being the benefactor she has been credited with being, the cow is really man's worst enemy. He finds that milk is fairly swarming with microbes and bacteria, and he hastens to conclude that a great many people who have drunk nothing weaker than sour milk for years are justified in their antipathy to milk.

On the other hand, however, there is M. Duclaux, member of the French institute, who has just published a book to demonstrate that these same cow microbes are our best friends. He asserts it as one of the advantages of milk that "it is especially favorable to the development of microbes and bacteria. Do the microbes which are swallowed by the millions in a glass of milk present any danger to the public health?" he asks calmly and as calmly replies: "Not at all! When they have entered the alimentary canal, these microbes meet millions of others which inhabit the canal, and all together co-operate in the common work of digestion."

While this is satisfactory so far as the cow is concerned, it is not altogether pleasing to be told that digestion cannot go on without the presence of millions of microbes in the alimentary canal, and that of necessity our bodies must be filled with microbes if we would live. If these claims be true, the microbe is one of the greatest forces in nature.

The criticism of the dramatic world is incited by a recent article in the Forum by Frederick Harrison that "for sixty or seventy years at least, no really great tragedian has ever been heard in English." He believes we have improved in stage settings and art in scenery, but not in acting. He regards Edmund Kean as the last great dramatic genius, passing over Macready, Booth and Irving as credible, but not great actors. Not many people will agree with Mr. Harrison's opinions on the latter point.

Hotel managers report that their business is improving rapidly. This is an encouraging statement, because hotel trade is the first to suffer when times are dull and the last to get better when general business improves. The fact that the commercial travelers are again startling out is equally encouraging. The return of the missionaries of trade shows that confidence has come back to the business world.

cent address on the duty and beauty of good roads said that the average expen-

The Buying Time of Conservative Purchasers.

There is always some-

and if you'll stop and take a "cool think" and turn over in your mind

At the

Again we say this is these companies of customers so coolly and deliberately selecting things to wear, get more for their money than any other class of people. They buy clothes with a view of being formidable looking, because the effects are in keeping with human refinement. Did you know that a Gown or Hat that detracts from your personal appearance, and looks common, is an expensive acquisition, though you are actually paid to take it? You,

'tackey' and you cannot

Father Connelly Will Not be Brought to Trial Until the November Term of Court.

County Attorney Dwan, of Lake County, Presented an Affidavit of Illness and Asked a Continuance.

Attorney Baldwin is Getting Impatient and Wants a Trial—Angelo De Fabia Was Acquitted.

Father Connelly is not to be tried this term and those who had bespoken chairs in the district court room in the expectation of hearing a batch of spicy testimony must wait until November. C. O. Baldwin, attorney for the defendant, had his witnesses all subpoenaed and was prepared to go to trial tomorrow morning. Today the state came in with a doctor's certificate to the effect that County Attorney Dwan, of Lake county, is too ill to attend court. Mr. Baldwin thinks that the state is not showing much eagerness to prosecute the case and is not slow in stating his opinion—in fact he made such statement in open court to the second day of the November term, on the doctor's affidavit.

Twenty minutes time only was required by the jury to acquit Angelo De Fabia of the charge of shooting Mrs. Solenina. The testimony was completed last evening and the judge charged the jury this morning.

Bobby Martin is taking the time and attention of Judge Lewis and a jury today. Bobby is a big, red whiskered man, neatly dressed, and looks more like a respectable farmer or mechanic than anything else. He stands charged with going through the pockets of Adolph Selden and taking therefrom fourteen silver dollars, set up in the indictment as good and lawful money of the United States.

Out of the Martin case grows another, which stands next on the criminal calendar. It seems that Bobby has a staunch friend in one Tom Burke. When the storm broke around and tried to "square it" with the complainant, it is further alleged that he did in a measure "square it" and Selden got away as far as West Superior, where he was overtaken and returned to Duluth. So Burke now rests under a charge of bribery and to make it more binding all around Selden has been kept under arrest to insure his appearing against Martin and Burke.

In Judge Ensign's room the case of Frederick W. Paine against J. B. Scovell is still on trial.

FIVE DOLLARS.

Did you ever hear of a Dress Overcoat for any such price, eh? Of course not, for it takes four dollars to pay for the making alone. Worth $8.00 at least. We'll not take $6.00 if we can sell you one for $5.00. We have them in two desirable shades. Take a look at them for your own sake. You'll close your eyes mighty quick and dive into your jeans at a mile a minute pace.

EIGHT DOLLARS.

Here we touch the Spring and Fall Overcoat for either comfort or dress. Cloths: Cheviots and Kerseys; makes: roll fronts and sack buttoned; shades: the latest of silk mixed, black, drab, sulphur, mouse colors; styles: raw-edged silk stitched, sack cut. Real value not less than $12.00.

TEN DOLLARS.

If you consider a $15.00 Overcoat just about your pile—drop in and see us. We'll not only save you $5.00, but give you a finer made up garment. Ours are the latest in fashion surely (otherwise we could not quote them that low) representing Kersey, Cheviot and Ribbed Cheviot materials in all the delicate shades pertaining to nobly dress purposes—lined with harmonizing Silk Serges or perhaps Italians. Styles this season are a trifle longer. You try one on, when you get around our way.

TWELVE DOLLARS.

"A stunner, by Jove!" as a gentleman remarked when comparing with his own—the identical garment that I paid $20.00 for. The fact is, it cost nearly $15.00 to make him. Here they are the creme of fashion, cut in box style—four silk stitch edge—roll or button front, excellently trimmed and draped. Fit as fine as could be expected from a tailor-made garment. If you want some finer ones, all you have to do—keep on examining until you see enough.

County Auditor George N. La Vague returned today from Chicago. "It's a big fair," said he, "and Minnesota's exhibit is above the average. Among other things, our state furnished the biggest hog. I don't think much of the Duluth map. For instance, as well as I know the lay of the city I could not pick out the avenue on which I live. None of the profile maps have given satisfaction and Duluth's is as good as any of them."

WAR IN MOROCCO

Spanish Sentiment Has Been Greatly Aroused By the Attack of the Moors at Melilla.

Demand That Summary Vengeance Be Wreaked For the Insult to the Flag of Spain.

Melilla Is Surrounded by Twelve Thousand Fanatical Moors Who Are Thirsting For Spanish Blood.

Mountain Roads Filled With Natives Hastening to Join in What They Call a Holy War.

MADRID, Oct. 4.—Not within recent years has public sentiment been so thoroughly aroused as it has been by the attack of the Moors upon the Spanish garrison at Melilla on the northern coast of Morocco. The government has taken prompt and energetic measures to punish the Riff tribes who attacked the Spaniards, dispatching with all possible speed after the receipt of the news of the battle a gunboat to bombard the Riffian strongholds and a special steamer with a battery of artillery to reinforce the Melilla garrison.

The Spanish naval stations were yesterday busier than they had been in years. At the military headquarters, too, there was an air of suppressed excitement and orderlies were dispatched frequently to the barracks conveying instructions to certain regiments to hold themselves in readiness to proceed immediately to Melilla. But notwithstanding all these preparations, the people are dissatisfied. The populace do not understand that some time is necessary to prepare the troops for foreign service. They are bitterly angry at the Moors, and all the pride of race, which has distinguished the Spanish nation for centuries, unreasonably demands that summary vengeance be wreaked upon the barbarians who have dared to insult the yellow and red flag of Spain.

The people, who thus in their anger demand an impossibility, do not stop to consider that the mountaineers of Morocco have practically no fear, and that the greatest delight of their lives is to fight the "disputed Christian." In dealing with an enemy of this kind it is absolutely necessary that every precaution be taken to guard against defeat. The cool heads at the military headquarters are fighting the Moors they are actually "carrying the war into Africa," and that the natives in the event of general hostilities would have reason to regret coming to their standard from every part of the Mohammedan world.

Spain will, however, carry out her intention to strengthen the fortifications at Melilla and will see to it that a sufficient force of military is stationed there to prevent any further raid by the Riffians. Morocco will be compelled to pay indemnity for Monday's raid.

It has become known that the bodies of the Spaniards who were killed in the battle were abominably mutilated by the fanatical Moors. This knowledge has added much to the indignation of the populace. There is much talk of holding indignation meetings and it is expected that such meetings will be held in Madrid, Malaga and Seville, where the fury caused by the receipt of this intelligence has reached the boiling point.

Cable reports from Melilla state that the village is surrounded by 12,000 fanatical Moors who are determined to have revenge upon the Spaniards for destroying one of the adjacent villages. It is also reported that the mountain roads are filled with well armed natives, who are hastening to support their co-religionists in what they believe to be a "holy war." Report has it that the Moors are in the mosques when they call the natives to prayer and a call for all the faithful to rise up in arms and follow the green flag of the prophet. The situation is critical.

ARE EAGER FOR WAR.
The Matabeles in South Africa Are Causing Trouble.

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 4.—Advice received here from Fort Victoria, one of the stations of the British South Africa company in Mashonaland, show that the Matabele regiments of King Lobengula are advancing toward the fort with the apparent intention of attacking the place. Dr. Jameson, the company's administrator in Mashonaland, has resolved to assume the offensive with a view to checking the advance of the Matabeles. A strong force is about to march from Fort Victoria and Fort Charter and it will endeavor to drive the Matabeles out of Mashonaland.

The Matabeles are said to be eager for war with the Europeans, and unless King Lobengula is able to check the war feeling among his young warriors an engagement is more than likely to occur.

Has No Money.
New York, Oct. 4.—Receiver Oakes, of the Northern Pacific, says that O'Connell interest on the Central Avenue general mortgage bonds will not be paid because the receivers have no money to pay it. The court has authorized the payment. Holders of the first, however, are receiving their interest.

LATEST COMPROMISE TALK.

It Couples State Bank Tax Repeal With An Issue of Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The latest feature of the compromise talk in the senate concerns the state bank tax repeal. Evidently this proposition has been brought forward to overcome objections of the Southern Democrats to an issue of bonds to swell the gold reserve, to that committee, but most of them are those that failed to be acted upon last session, and their prospects are not favorable now.

The days of the private pension appear to be numbered. During the Fifty-first congress about 400 of this character passed and the two previous congresses were quite as liberal, but last session only 200 went through. The committee on this session will be even more stringent in regard to them.

It has been discovered that the act of June 27, 1890, reached the case of a great many persons who seek pensions through legislative action, which relieves the committee from a vast amount of unnecessary work.

HE WANTS A COMPROMISE.
Senator Butler Thinks the Silver Question Should be Compromised.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—In the senate this morning a resolution was offered by Mr. Morgan which went over till tomorrow, instructing the judiciary committee to consider and report what provisions of the law of 1873 (the free coinage act) are still in force.

The silver purchase repeal bill was taken up at 11:30 and Mr. Butler addressed the senate against it. He replied to Mr. Palmer's remarks of yesterday, criticizing the senate for its action. He said that the senate minority on the repeal question was not attempting to coerce anybody, but it did intend to be coerced by anybody.

The senate was not a town meeting but it was a great deliberative body, intended to put a veto upon hasty, unwise and improper legislation. It had been asked, "What was to be done?" His reply was, "Compromise, compromise is the solution."

THE MANCHESTER CANAL.
It Will be Ready for Opening on the First of January.

MANCHESTER, Oct. 4.—The chairman of the works committee of the Manchester ship canal announced to the city council, today that the canal would be ready to be opened to traffic on Jan. 1. When the canal is opened for its entire length, a part is now opened, Manchester will become a port of entry and will, it is expected, become a strong rival of Liverpool for ocean traffic. Cotton steamers will then be able to land their cargoes close to the mills, and thus railway freights and the expense of handling will be saved to the consignee.

Killed in Alaska.
LEWISTON, Me., Oct. 4.—A telegram was received yesterday by the friends of the late Harrison K. Thornton, of the neighboring town of Auburn, who has been with his wife in Alaska since April, 1892, saying that he was shot and killed by natives Aug. 20 last, and that Mrs. Thornton had embarked for San Francisco with the remains, en route to Auburn.

To Join the Rebel Fleet.
MONTEVIDEO, Oct. 4.—The Brazilian turret ship Bahia sailed north yesterday. It is reported that she is going to join the rebel fleet under command of Admiral Mello. The Bahia is a coast defense armor clad. She is of 1000 tons burden and 1000 horse power. She carries two 7-inch guns besides a small auxiliary battery.

No Strike Threatened.
BALTIMORE, Oct. 4.—General Manager Odell, of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, today pronounced the stories of a threatened strike on the road as absurdly untrue. "We have not reduced salaries," he said, "and it is not now certain that we shall. Therefore there can be no cause for disagreement with our employees."

Silver in India.
LONDON, Oct. 4.—A special to the Times from Calcutta says that the large imports of silver are causing great difficulty. The dispatch adds: A suggestion that an import duty be placed on silver and other arising questions show the lightheartedness with which the currency scheme was entered upon. The Government has never considered coinage arrangements with the native states.

Five Prisoners Escaped.
LIMA, O., Oct. 4.—At an early hour this morning the prisoners in the Wood county jail at Bowling Green made their escape. There were five prisoners, one murderer, two desperate crooks and one thief. No trace of them can be found.

Will go to St. Paul.
F. A. Greene, city ticket agent of the Northern Pacific at Duluth, is in St. Paul looking over the ground preparatory to removing here to represent the Wisconsin Central, says the St. Paul Dispatch. It is expected that announcement of his appointment as city ticket agent here of the latter road will be made in a few days.

The above is probably true, but Mr. Greene is out of the city and it could not be confirmed today. The St. Paul News says that he is slated for general agent of the road at St. Paul.

"The Journalists."
Tomorrow "The Journalists" company will go to Ashland and in the evening present this production of a Duluth man, Fred J. Chipman. On Friday evening it will be produced at Superior and on Saturday evening Duluthians will see it for the first time. That it will be a great success is predicted by every individual in the cast and all of them are old and experienced actors and actresses. The play is to be produced on an elaborate scale and with great attention to detail. A finished performance may be expected.

A Noon Wedding.
Miss Addie M. VanBuren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter VanBuren, and Carroll M. S. Nauseau were married at noon today at the residence of the bride's parents, 1103 East Superior street. They left for Chicago on the Omaha.

HUNDREDS DEAD

The Terrible Storm on the Coast of Louisiana Resulted in Several Hundred People Perishing.

Steamer Joe Weber Was Blown to Pieces and Several of the Crew were Drowned.

Grand Isle Reported to Have Been Washed Away, But the Story Not Yet Confirmed.

The Island Is in Jefferson Parish and Was a Summer Resort for Many Years.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 4.—The first authentic news came from Grand Isle this morning when a lugger reached the company canal from the island. The man in charge reports that the steamer Joe Weber was blown to pieces and that several of the crew were drowned. The storm was terrible at Grand Isle and Cheniere Caminada. At the latter place only two houses are standing and the lugger man reports that several hundred people have been drowned. The island was quite appalling, but there were many persons in the city familiar with the geographical position of the island who were inclined to believe that the reports trickling into the city were somewhat colored. It is not the first time that Grand Isle has been reported to have been washed away. The island is practically cut off from communication, and the only means of obtaining information is through the regular passenger steamer that plies between this city and the island, and the many luggers engaged in the oyster trade. The last bad storm was in 1888, and there was also a severe storm in 1889. In 1888, when there was much destruction in the city, the gale was very high at Grand Isle and the water of the gulf was backed up on the land, and the residents and sojourners upon the island were for a day and a night terror-stricken.

The storm, however, did no damage, of great magnitude and there were no lives lost. At that time the regular steamer running to the island was long overdue and then there were rumors in the city that Grand Isle had been swept away. The reports to be true. They had, however, created greater anxiety in the city than the reports that were received last night, where the reason that the 1888 storm had been reported to have been washed away was still a large number of summer sojourners from the city upon the island.

Grand Isle lies this side of Grand Isle. It is about fifteen miles across is shallow, and when the wind is high is very dangerous. In 1888 boats could not venture across it until the cyclone had subsided, and in 1889 the Joe Weber, steaming, carrying passengers and mail, was driven ashore and wrecked a mile from her landing and afraid to venture into the lake. She lost a day and a half getting away, and the incident caused much alarm in the city. That was also in August.

Grand Isle lies directly south of New Orleans. It is about sixty miles from the city by the tortuous route that is covered to reach it. There are two ways of getting to the island—one by way of the Atchafalaya, fifty miles down the river, and the other by way of Company canal, which is about opposite the old exposition grounds. By this route Grand Isle must be crossed. The trip is from ten to fourteen hours, according to the wind and the speed of the current.

The island is in Jefferson parish and has been a summer resort for many years, but was not liberally patronized because of its location and the lack of wire communication. There were very few people from this city on the island. The season does not usually last longer than Sept. 15, because the island is subject to storms from that time on.

Later—The loss of life caused by the storm will probably reach 1000. The Joe Weber was not alone in her trouble. The J. McSweeney, consort of the Weber, having also met with total demolition. With these two steamboats went their entire crews to a watery grave.

Besides these fatalities the following luggers were swept out of existence: The Afede, Capt. Zibilsche; Velus, Capt. Barbier; Flying Dutchman, (captain's name unknown); Princess, (name not known); the Stephanie, Capt. John Telsasson, and the Grand Island (lost, captain and two sailors, names not known).

WILL HAVE A BETTER SHOW.
Baldwin and Hall Like the New Ruling on Appointments.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representatives Hall and Baldwin are pleased at the administration's new ruling on appointment matters. They will stand a better show of success in securing appointments from the heads of departments than would be the case in dealing directly with the president.

It is possible they will be able to defeat some of Mike Doran's schemes in appointment matters.

Van Allen to be Confirmed.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—The committee on foreign relations today took final action on the case of J. J. Van Allen, of Rhode Island, nominated to be ambassador to Italy. It is understood that the favorable report will be ordered. A large number of letters, both for and against confirmation, were received, but after careful consideration of all the facts, the committee, it is understood, decided that there was no good reason why Mr. Van Allen should not be confirmed.

FLOODED WITH BILLS.

Work Ahead of a Committee of Which Baldwin is a Member.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—As usual on the meeting of a new congress the committee on invalid pensions is deluged with private pension bills which require an extra detail of clerks to handle them. So far this session there have been nearly 500 measures of this character referred to that committee, but most of them are those that failed to be acted upon last session, and their prospects are not favorable now.

The days of the private pension appear to be numbered. During the Fifty-first congress about 400 of this character passed and the two previous congresses were quite as liberal, but last session only 200 went through. The committee on this session will be even more stringent in regard to them.

Oct. 4.—There seems to be a stormy season just commencing now, as two are shown on the charts this morning, one over the country north of Minnesota and the other over Kansas, neither of which are possessed of much energy. An area of high barometer of slight extent and still slightly higher occupies the Tennessee valley.
Rain has been well distributed over the country, some of the heaviest falls being 2.8 inches at Detroit, and 1.41 at Cincinnati. In other sections it has been heavier than usual.
The temperature has fallen over the Northwest and risen slightly over the Southwest, the highest is 82° at Knoxville, Tenn., the lowest is 30° at Fort Buford, N. D., and 29° at Lander, Wyo.

It is possible that the northern storm may affect this section, but the chances are that it will pass along without doing more than to bring fresh southwesterly winds and higher temperatures. The storm over Kansas may develop and move so as to affect this part of the country by tomorrow, but its probable movement cannot be foretold now.
The rainfall here last night amounted to .30 of an inch, the highest temperature here yesterday was 52°, the lowest last night 45°.

DULUTH, Oct. 4.—Local Forecast: Fair; slightly warmer today; slight change in temperature Thursday; light breeze from west-northwest.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Forecast till 8 p.m.
Thursday: For Wisconsin: Partly cloudy weather and probably showers; warmer tonight; cooler Thursday; southerly winds. For Minnesota: Partly cloudy and probably showers in southern portion today; tonight; cooler
Thursday; west to north winds.

America's Cup Race.
Tomorrow there will be sailed the first of a series of yacht races between the Vigilant and the Valkyrie for the possession of the famous Queen's cup, which the America won from the combined Royal Yacht Squadron in 1871, and which has since remained in this country under the name of the first winner. The cup has been in the custody of the New York Yacht club, and the best yacht-building brains of two great countries have been employed in the production of the contesting yachts during the past forty-two years. Since the America captured the cup, American yachts have beaten the Cambria, Livonia, Atalanta, Countess of Dufferin, Genesee, Galathea and Thistle.

The defeat of the latter six years ago was a severe blow to the British yachmen. The Thistle had beaten everything in English waters and the people across the Atlantic were confident of victory.
Their defeat was a sad disappointment, and they made no further effort to capture the cup until Lord Dunraven issued a challenge and entered the Valkyrie for the contest.

The race for the America's cup is governed by strict conditions, which were found necessary to insure a strictly impartial decision from the judges in the event of its being sailed for by any recognized yacht club in the world. In these conditions the courses over which the three races must be sailed—the best two out of three being adjudged the winner—are laid down as follows: First, the inside course—starting from a line
just off Fort Wadsworth and Lafayette in upper New York bay, through the Narrows, down the lower bay to the Southwest Spit, and around the Sandy Hook lightship and return, a distance of about forty-five miles; second, the outside course—twenty miles to windward or leeward from Sandy Hook lightship and return; third, the triangular course —ten miles on each leg, against, on, and before the wind, starting from Sandy Hook lightship.

The first race, which is to be sailed tomorrow, will be over the inside course, taking wind as it comes, and if former races are any criterion, it will be the most trying one of the three. Unless it be to test the sailing qualities of a yacht under every conceivable condition of weather and water, this course is practically useless, and even then winning a race over it depends more upon the skill and alertness of the skipper than upon the sailing merits of the yacht.
Over the outside course it is a very different matter. There each yacht is on her mettle; it is a fair field and no favors. Twenty miles dead beat to windward, and a corresponding free run over the same distance means the stretching of every point, the keenest advantage of every quality in vessel and men, the exhibition of true yachting skill, and the victory to the best boat.

In the last three contests it was not necessary to sail the triangular course, the American yachts having won the first two races. This year it may be different. The Valkyrie is admitted to be the best boat the British yachtsmen have sent after the cup, but on the other hand it is contended that the Vigilant is superior to any of the cup defenders in past years. It will not be strange, however, if the Vigilant should lose two out of the three races. It is remarkable that American yachts should have won steadily for forty-two years.

Consumption is Contagious.
The action of the Michigan state board of health in declaring consumption to be a dangerous and communicable disease and requiring cases to be reported by local boards to the state board is receiving considerable attention and has been the subject of much discussion by the health authorities of other states.

The Michigan board's action is the result of accepting the germ theory of consumption and there is every reason to believe that it is the correct plan to follow. All physicians who have kept abreast of the times, with very few exceptions, now believe consumption to be communicable. Dr. Koch, of Berlin, who is well known to the general public on account of the cures alleged to have been performed by his lymph discovery, first called the attention of the medical world to this point about three years ago, when he discovered the consumption bacillus. This bacillus has been cultivated and its identity is well known. The germ is contained in the sputa raised by the patient when coughing. It is transferred to the floor or to a handkerchief and, becoming dried, raises in dust to permeate the atmosphere. Others may inhale it, and if the condition of the lungs be favorable may contract the disease.

It will thus be seen that consumption must properly be placed in the list of contagious diseases. Of course it is not possible that every person afflicted with consumption can be isolated, as in cases of smallpox, but discussion of the subject may have the effect of educating the people to care properly for their friends who have the disease and to properly care for themselves.

The Needless Delay.
The filibustering senators show no disposition at present to yield gracefully to the inevitable. They continue to talk and talk against the repeal of the Sherman law, evidently hoping that they will be able to force a compromise. Probably their game would succeed, were it not for the firm and resolute attitude assumed by President Cleveland, who absolutely refuses to listen to any plan of compromise. "Repeal or nothing" is his program, and it is the program that must win.

This being the case, the silver senators might just as well yield now as later.
They have nothing to gain by delay.
Even the newspapers in the silver states admit this, and they are now urging that there is no sense in preventing a vote on the question. The Anaconda, Mont., Standard, a Democratic paper, declares its conviction that a large majority of the people of that state believe the final vote should not be too long postponed. It alleges that the people of Idaho share
the feeling predominating in Montana.
The Standard goes further, and alleges the existence of a similar opinion in Utah and Colorado.

The Denver News says "it is evident the silver states must give in long before the end of the session." It adds: "This fact is known to the repeal senators.
They know that when a vote is reached they will win. Unless a compromise is fairly proposed, the debate will close and a vote be taken within two weeks." If the silver senators would only get as much sense on this point as the people they are supposed to represent, a vote would be taken at once.

A harrowing tale of dentistry comes from the Brooklyn courts. Says the complaint just entered: "The defendant caught hold of the plaintiff's upper jaw with the pinchers he had in his hand at the time for the purpose of extracting said tooth and squeezed on said pinchers and pulled and hauled thereon for all his might until he drew from the plaintiff's mouth a large piece and portion of the plaintiff's jawbone." For this inhuman proceeding upon the part of the defendant, plaintiff asks $5000 damages.

The Republican candidate for governor of Iowa, Frank D. Jackson, has a record that is causing him and his party considerable trouble to explain away.
So far he has failed to satisfactorily explain it, and it looks as if he cannot succeed. It appears that in 1880 he was disbarred from practicing before the divisions of the interior department on account of an attempt to extort illegal fees from an old soldier, who was applying for a pension.

The remains of Professor Richard A.
Proctor, the celebrated astronomer, which have heretofore lain in an obscure and neglected grave, were yesterday transferred to a handsome tomb erected by George W. Childs, of Philadelphia.
It was a worthy act on the part of Mr.
Childs to pay this tribute of respect to the dead astronomer.

Speaker Crisp's method of carrying business through the house may be indefensible on general principles, but if Vice President Stevenson should put in practice a similar method in the senate just now a good many people would discreetly look the other way while he did it, says the Providence Journal.

The attention of the school board is directed to a communication in this issue in regard to the dangerous practice followed in the schools of taking up pencils and mixing them indiscriminately to be distributed again in the morning. It is asserted that disease is spread very rapidly in this manner.

WOULD NOT ADMIT IT.

Judge Powell Ruled Against Receiving Gregg's Confession in Evidence at the Hearing Yesterday.

State Must Now Prove That It Was Not Obtained Under Duress But Voluntarily.

Clarke Has Made the Same Confession But His Was Not Presented at the Hearing.

John Clarke and W. B. Gregg had a preliminary examination yesterday afternoon before Judge Powell in the municipal court. The feature of the examination was some documentary evidence produced by L. C. Tuss who appeared for the state and for the companies, assisted by Tinkham & Tinkham, which was very strongly objected to by Lardner & Middlecott and Allen & Baldwin for the defense. The documents consisted of a letter from Gregg, to the presidents of the various companies, giving a detailed account of his life, expressing great contrition and praying in the most abject terms for mercy; also a very remarkable confession in which Gregg gives up the scheme he had planned with Kravenbuhl and Clarke to beat the insurance companies out of some money.

He commences this extraordinary document by a recital of his woes, how hard up he was, and how he owed Kravenbuhl $1800 which he could not pay and how under great pressure he consented to become a party to the proposed fraud. He then goes on to describe his exit from Duluth. He and Clarke rowed over to the south shore and Gregg attempted to make his way through the woods to the line of the Northern Pacific road, but he lost himself and finally found himself back at Superior where he heard of his own supposed death and that his body was being searched for. He managed to get away from Superior without being detected and, assuming the name of Bradley, lurked around Ashland for some time finally making his way to New York. He seems to have put in most of his time in that city and is now wiring Kravenbuhl to send him money until the latter took alarm and tried to choke him off. All their correspondence was done from New York, it seems that when Kravenbuhl reduced his remittance to the $5 mark Gregg got sick of the whole business.

Gregg's confession was offered by the prosecution but Judge Powell ruled it out. The state then procured a continuance to Tuesday. It must then be shown that the confession was voluntarily made and not obtained under duress, otherwise it will not be admitted. C. E. Storey, agent for the United States Mutual Accident association, testified to the issuing of policies on Gregg's life and the demands made for payment on account of his alleged death.

Although Gregg's confession was the only one offered there is no existence made by Clarke and it is exactly the same as Gregg's, so that it cannot be said that the latter has attempted to turn state's evidence and get off. Gregg's confession was offered because the state was better prepared to prove his guilt than the representatives of the insurance companies while the two men were confined in jail in Philadelphia.

CARLTON IS AGITATED.

People There are Taking Extraordinary Precautions Against Thieves.

Philip Blagden spent yesterday in Carlton. "It's really laughable," said he, "to see the precautions the citizens of that little burg are now taking. In nearly every store and house may be seen a Winchester or big revolver. It will go hand with the next bank or any other kind of robber that strikes there and it will be fortunate indeed if the frightened citizens do not kill a couple of commercial travelers or half a dozen number jacks before winter. It is almost impossible for a stranger, to do business there, particularly if he is working in the city of a directory. A deputy sheriff patrols the town morning and night and watches every incoming train for suspicious characters. The cashier of the Bank of Carlton is having a bullet-proof screen put in over his window. He touches a spring, the screen drops into position and man and money are protected."

Want It Transferred.

A petition and bond were filed with the clerk of the circuit court of Superior yesterday by the defendants in the case of the Ashland Iron & Steel company vs. The Stockholders of the Superior Iron & Steel company asking for the removal of the case to the United States circuit court for the western district of Wisconsin. The petition says that the question that will arise is whether the plaintiff is entitled to have the attachment lien of the Land & River Improvement company upon the property of the West Superior Iron & Steel company made subservient to its own claim and whether the said Ashland Iron & Steel company is entitled to have the attachment lien of the Land & River Improvement company by reason of the acts set out in the complaint.

A special train of eight colonization sleepers, with one baggage car, will leave St. Paul at 3 o'clock Sunday evening and will arrive inside the fair grounds at about 5 o'clock Monday morning.

The 2nd company will go along with the train at Red Wing and the Spring Valley company will be taken up at La Crosse. Seibert will go along with twenty-five members of his band. There will be more than 300 men in the party besides the band. Mattresses have been secured for sleeping purposes and will be used on the cars and in Chicago.

TO QUARTER POLK COUNTY.

Governor Asked to Divide the Big Ballwin-In to Four New Counties.

A petition about 100 yards long was filed with the governor yesterday asking for the division of Polk county into four. The southwest corner is to retain the name of Polk, with Crookston as the county seat. The northeast corner to be known as Red Lake, with Red Lake Falls as the county seat; the northwest corner to be known as Nash, with East Grand Forks as the county seat and the southeast corner to be Columbia county, with McKintosh as the county seat.

The petition is the result of the ambition of a number of towns to be counties. This is the second petition from the county. The first was for one new county. The matter will be voted on at the next election.

A Dangerous Practice.

To the Editor of The Herald:

The spread of diphtheria in the public schools of the city has caused parents to take a complaint with the health department. Health Commissioner Hoyt directed Inspector Link to make an investigation, and as a result Commissioner Hoyt addressed a letter to the board of education. The investigation showed that the pencils in the schools were taken up every night and packed in a box to be distributed in the morning. As the children put the pencils in their mouths, this is a very specially means for the spread of the disease. Many pupils attending school, although having a mild form of diphtheria, the commissioner suggested that each pupil be allowed to keep his pencil books and pencils be responsible for the same, or that on collection of the pencils in the evening the janitor be required to thoroughly wash them in some strong disinfectant.

The plan of taking up the pencils and pencils every night is followed, here and there is a dangerous one. There are a few cases of scarlet fever and diphtheria in our city and certainly no better method could be thought of to spread the dreaded disease and I feel sure our superintendent of schools will change the plan if his attention is called to it.

THE REAL OBJECT.

Mayor d'Autremont and Alderman Cox Were to Fight a Duel.

The mayor and the members of the city council returned last night from their trip on Alderman Ben Howard's steam yacht Nautilus after a most enjoyable trip, even if it was a little rough. They had a first rate time and were most hospitably treated, but they are all rather mopey or extra dry about the details of the trip. However, one rumor is about as reliable as the others, and it may be worth it to say that the real object of this trip was to give the mayor and Alderman Cox a chance to settle their differences upon a foreign soil according to the code of honor.

The mode of fighting settled upon was unique. Mayor d'Autremont is a skillful fencer and a good pistol shot, but he cannot box. Alderman Cox can shoot, cannot fence, but can fight like a cat with a club in his fists. Here was a dilemma, but finally the seconds upon both sides agreed upon the following plan: The mayor was to be provided with a pistol and a good pistol shot, but he cannot box. Alderman Cox can shoot, cannot fence, but can fight like a cat with a club in his fists. ## A MILLION LOST

First Definite News of the Havoc by the Storm on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Financial Loss Along the Entire Coast Will Reach $1,000,000 and One Hundred Lives Lost.

Miles of Chandeleur Island Washed Away and Quarantine Station Destroyed—Many Vessels Wrecked.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 5.—The first definite news from the Mississippi coast reached the city this morning, all wires having been down and the Louisville & Nashville having been washed out at intervals from Mobile to New Orleans. The financial loss along the entire coast will be up not less than $1,000,000, and fully 100 lives were lost. The news is almost as appalling as that from the Gulf coast of Louisiana. At Biloxi nothing escaped the fury of the elements. On every side could be seen the wrecks of boats, piers and bath houses and in many instances the fronts of houses on the beach were totally demolished.

Throughout the town great trees were uprooted, swinging signs were swept away like leaves, sheds and vehicles were tossed about like matchboxes and animals of every description were terribly frightened. Many of the street are blocked with fallen trees and a mass of rubbish washed in by the sea, while the beach itself is impassable on account of the piles of wreckage visible all along the entire coast. The canning industries were completely wrecked, all the factories being either badly damaged or utterly destroyed.

Much of the damage at the back bay was caused by a section of several hundred feet of the railroad bridge, which was swept away at Ocean Springs, washing up against the buildings and crushing them like eggshells. It is difficult at this time to make any intelligent estimate of the damage sustained by the loss of luggers, steamships, fishing boats and like crafts.

Out of more than 100 boats on the front bay, little and big, only three rode the storm safely, and the beach is strewn with wrecks of all descriptions. On the back bay, there were only one or two that weathered the gale. Not a single wharf is left standing on either the front or back bay. The damage was not confined alone to the waterfronts, but all through the city, in every direction, the effects of the storm can be seen in fallen trees, fences and here and there a house partially unroofed.

The velocity of the wind at the height of the storm must have been at least 100 miles an hour. The Baptist church steeple was blown down and the bell cracked. The breakwater at the light-house was washed away, but the tower was not damaged.

At Deer island, just opposite Biloxi, over forty head of cattle were drowned. When the storm came, which was a genuine cyclone, there were many Biloxi boats in the Louisiana marsh oyster fishing and it is almost certain that in many cases a number, if not all of the boats have gone down with all on board. Of eight schooners that were known to be there on Sunday evening, three have been picked up bottom up with mast and rigging all gone, and not a soul on board. It is believed that the loss of life will not fall short of 100.

At Ship island, previous to the storm, there were seven vessels loading for foreign ports. The Norwegian bark Simon, Capt. Gunderson, 734 tons, from Capetown to load for Buenos Ayres, lost her mast and rigging and suffered other damage. The British bark Rosella Smith, 509 tons, from Havana, Capt. Hunterman, was found bottom up, drifting outside and is a total loss. The mate, carpenter and cook were drowned. The German bark Marguerite, 1287 tons, from New York, Capt. Koster, lost two anchors and 120 fathoms of chains and suffered other damage.

A Complete Wreck. The Austrian bark Annie E. B. from Santos, is a complete wreck. Of the crew of thirteen men and two stevedores aboard, the captain, three sailors and the two stevedores were drowned. The stevedores were from Pascagoula—one white and one colored.

The barge Hero, of Moss Point, belonging to Howze & Griffin, lost the only man aboard, named Shepard, and the barge Boss, of the same place, also lost a colored man, name unknown. Considerable damage was also done on the island, the warehouse, fort, keeper's house and lazaretto at the quarantine station being completely washed away and the light-house keeper's house being badly damaged.

About one mile of the railroad bridge at Bay St. Louis is washed ashore on the island, together with much derelicts of other kinds from other vessels, oyster boats, sloops and luggers. Very little of the government wharf remains, and what is left will be of no service. A large number of cattle were also drowned.

Probably the worst damage and loss of property was at Chandeleur island. Here were located the United States marine hospital quarantine buildings in charge of Dr. G. M. Guiteras, with Dr. Charles Pelair, of Biloxi as assistant. At this point the fullest strength of the storm was developed, resulting not only in the almost complete destruction of all buildings on the island, but a fearful loss of life. The velocity of the wind reached 100 miles per hour.

The building and pier known as the disinfecting plant, supplied with all the modern appliances for the thorough disinfection of vessels from infected ports, is a complete loss, everything being washed away, while the other buildings on the island are more or less damaged and uninhabitable. The largest house connected with the main station, was also carried away.

The following persons are missing and it is almost certain they are drowned: Stewart L. A. Duckert, of New Orleans; Nussie McKenzie, of Mobile; Seaman Muller, of Amsterdam, and two patients, one named Lazen, of the Steamship Ravensdale and George B. Saluis, boatman of the American bark Rebecca Goddard. Neither of these patients, however, were suffering from any contagious disease, and there was no disease of that character existing at the quarantine. The buildings on the islands were located so far apart that there was no communication, and it was impossible for the occupants to render assistance to one another. The lighthouse is also wrecked to such an extent that the light-house keeper has abandoned it.

Miles Washed Away. Miles of the island have been washed away and what little remains is liable to be completely submerged with a little more than ordinary high tide. Dr. Guiteras has notified the department at Washington that the island is no longer habitable, and recommended the transfer of the quarantine station at Ship island, and Dr. Pelair has been transferred to that point. Dr. Guiteras has also notified the bar pilots and the health authorities at Pensacola, Mobile and Pascagoula, that all vessels from infected ports will hereafter report at Ship island, instead of Chandeleur.

The damage by wind to the quarantine service alone at Chandeleur island will amount to nearly $100,000. The disinfecting plant, which had been erected during the past year, together with the wharf and disinfecting apparatus, cost $17,000, and other buildings and improvements between $50,000 and $60,000, to which may be added about $30,000 for the steam transfer boat, William H. Welsh, Capt. Joseph Delmas, which is aground at the North point of the island in 100 feet of water. Should the tug tug ahead, which is extremely doubtful, she will sustain damages to the amount of several thousand dollars.

About forty head of cattle were also lost on the island yesterday. A Manilla sailor made his way to the Chandeleur station from the fishing sloop Laura B. of New Orleans, which was wrecked in Grand pass. Out of a crew of seven men he is the only survivor, and when found on the island was in an unconscious and perfectly nude condition, having been in the water over ten hours. He was furnished with clothing and brought to Biloxi on the steam tug Julius Elbert.

The oyster lugger Rosalie, of Biloxi is also known to have gone to the bottom with a crew of four men. The American bark Rebecca Goddard, from St. Johns, lying at quarantine, dragged her anchors about five miles from the station and was only saved from going ashore by the cutting away of her masts and rigging. The Henry T. Gregg had a similar experience and was completely dismantled, the loss footing up fully $6000. Both vessels were towed into Ship island harbor by the steam tugs Toller and Julius Elbert.

Lost With Her Crew. The Austrian bark Nikita, which was in quarantine at Chandeleur, has disappeared and is believed to be lost with all on board. She had a crew of twelve men. The Norwegian bark Regna was also dismantled and taken to Ship island by the steamship Ravensdale. The Lena Storer and Flora Woodburn, both three-masted schooners, were the only vessels lying at Chandeleur island that were seriously damaged.

Last night the Henry T. Gregg took two Italian fishermen from a raft as they were drifting to sea. Another raft also passed the vessel with three men on board, but the Gregg's small boats were so badly wrecked that they could lend no assistance to the unfortunate, and nothing has been heard from them since. The pilot boat Chicora, about which a great deal of uneasiness was felt, was discovered to be ashore on Cat island, beached high and dry, with the two old veteran pilots, Capt. John Nelson, Sr., and Joseph Lewis, on board with the cook and sailor. A number of other vessels were badly damaged, but it will be several days yet before the full and complete record of the disaster and loss of life and property can be made.

Jack Shepard, the assistant bridge tender on the Biloxi railroad bridge, was washed overboard and drowned. His body was recovered the next day and

VALKYRIE LEADS

The English Cutter is Ahead in the First of the Races for the America's Cup.

Wind Very Light and the Race Can Hardly be Finished Within the Time Limit.

There Was Great Interest in the Event and New York People Went Yachting Mad.

Leadon Skies Did Not Dampen Them and Patriotic Men and Women Crowded the Vessels.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Today the first of the series of races for the America's cup is being sailed between Lord Dunsraven's English cutter Valkyrie and the New York syndicate's counterboarder Vigilant, the victor in the trial races held to determine which of four boats—Colonia, Jubilee, Pilgrim and Vigilant—should defend the trophy, possession of which denotes the yachting supremacy of the world.

Ever since the Valkyrie arrived in this port after a most tempestuous voyage, she has been an object of curiosity upwards of $700,000, while the intrinsic value of the cup itself is not much more than $250. It will thus easily be seen what expense the true yachtsman is willing to incur for the honor of holding this old silver "mug."

Great things have been predicted of the English boat, and there were many persons this morning who did not hesitate to declare that they hoped the Valkyrie would capture the prize, not because they lacked patriotism, but because they thought the cup went to England, American yachtsmen would never rest content until they sent a yacht into English waters to bring it back to America. A Valkyrie victory, they held, would give such a stimulus to yachting on both sides of the ocean as has never yet been experienced—in America to win back the trophy, and in Great Britain to hold it.

The following is a correct list of the syndicate owning the Vigilant: E. D. Morgan, C. Oliver Iselin, Perry Belmont, August Belmont, Charles R. Flint, Chester W. Chapin, George C. Clark, Henry Morris, representing the cup, H. R. Astor, J. P. Morgan, Jr., Cornelius Vanderbilt, Dr. W. Barton Hopkins, and A. J. Iselin, Oliver Belmont.

All New York apparently got up early this morning and taking boats to varied in size from ocean steamships to a rowing boat, put to sea. The first of the races for the America's cup, the trophy of international racing, was on, and the town was yachting mad. The boats were crowded with all manner of craft were recalled, but today's vessels were large and brave, for they had the bottom of the Atlantic for a rendezvous instead of the placid waters of the bay.

Never before one day have so many people embarked upon vessels and gone to sea from this port. Never has such a flotilla passed down between the shores of Staten and Long islands, out the narrows and across the broad expanse of the Lower bay to Sandy Hook and across the bay to the open sea.

The leaden skies of the early morning did not dampen the crowds and patriotic men and women filled the decks of all the vessels. A thick mist hung over the water and there was scarcely a sign of a breeze when the two yachts which were to stand for their nations got their anchors up and started down the bay.

The Race Started. SANDY HOOK, Oct. 5, 12:15 p. m.—The fog has lifted, considerably so that it is possible to see the Scotland Light ship about which is congregated a large fleet of vessels. In the distance into the south-east can be seen the Valkyrie and the Vigilant heading to the southwest. The position of the yachts would seem to indicate that the race had been started.

The wind has decreased somewhat within the last half hour. The Vigilant is leading the Valkyrie by about an eight of a mile. Both are running down the beach with all sail set, spinnakers set to port.

The Vigilant Leading. ATLANTIC HIGHLANDS, N. J., Oct. 5, 12:40 p. m.—Wind north, light breeze; fog clearing. The Vigilant is increasing her lead.

The Valkyrie in the Lead. HIGHLANDS OF NAVY, Oct. 5, 1:05 p. m.—The Valkyrie gained an advantage through the hunt for wind made by the Vigilant. Valkyrie kept on down the beach while the Vigilant went to the eastward when the latter straightened out on her course. The English boat was well in the lead. She is steadily increasing her advantage.

At the Stake Boat. HIGHLANDS OF NAVY, Oct. 5, 2:05 p. m.—Valkyrie is nearing the stake boat. It is estimated here that she is at least a mile and a quarter in the lead. From present indications it will be no race, as it appears impossible with the wind as it now for the yachts to finish within the time limit.

Cannot Be Finished. HIGHLANDS OF NAVY, Oct. 5, 2:20 p. m.—The tide at which the yachts are sailing may be judged from the fact that the Valkyrie has been in the field of the telescope for over fifteen minutes; that is to say, it has not been necessary to once move the telescope to see her in that time. She is very slowly getting near the turning point. She is in a southeasterly course and will round the turning point on the starboard bow. The Vigilant appears to be feeling the effects of the ground swell more than the Valkyrie and is rolling much more than the English cutter. There seems to be little prospect of finishing the race within the time limit.

The Starting Time. NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The Daily News says the start of the yacht race as received by a private message from the steamship St. John was as follows: Vigilant, 11:25:10; Valkyrie 11:25:40.

One Mile Ahead. SANDY HOOK, Oct. 5.—The Long Branch life saving station reports the Valkyrie turning the stake boat at 3:40. The Valkyrie is one mile in the lead.

WILL NOT DEMAND MORE. The Ardmore, Mo., Miners Will Wait for Better Times.

MACON, Mo., Oct. 5.—The 700 coal miners at Ardmore have decided not to make any demand for an increase in wages this winter, until the financial situation gets better. The financial depression of the country has caused the demand for coal to be light.

The Ardmore miners have not been receiving steady work at 50 cents and what they want now is steady work at 50 cents, but the small demand for coal will probably not justify regular work even at that amount at present. Last summer the Ardmore miners went out in sympathy with the Kansas strikers, but the Beaver miners refused to join them and the former soon went back to work. The Ardmore miners are now reticulating by refusing to join the Beaver, men in their present demands. At Beaver the 1000 miners are just as firm in their demands as the operators are in refusing to pay the increase.

TRIED TO SHOOT HERSELF. A Sensation Created by Lillian Lewis, the Actress.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 5.—Lillian Lewis, the actress, created a sensation at the opera house yesterday afternoon. While the rehearsal of a new play called "Lalisha" was in progress Miss Lewis upbraided her husband, Lawrence Marston, for always giving her gloomy lines, burst into tears and fled from the stage to her dressing room.

Soon the members of the company were startled by two reports from a pistol and Mr. Marston rushed to his wife's room and found the door locked. He lost no time in breaking the door open and Miss Lewis was found lying on the floor seemingly in a faint.

A hasty examination disclosed the fact that one of the balls from the pistol had perforated her clothing and passed between the left breast and the left arm, causing a slight abrasion of the skin but doing no harm.

BEATEN BY BURGLARS. Frigorous Treatment of a Farmer in a Wisconsin Town.

APPLETON, Wis., Oct. 5.—Last night two masked burglars broke into the house of Thomas McGillan in Center. McGillan was knocked down with a club and then gagged by the robbers, although he made a vigorous resistance. About $18 was stolen.

They poured coal oil over him and over the contents of the house and threatened to burn him to death. They beat McGillan on the head with a brick and tried to smother him by rolling him in a bed tick.

They thought McGillan had money secreted in the house and in every imaginable way tried to get him to divulge the hiding place. McGillan is a well-known farmer and resides alone.

HIS HEAD CUT OFF. A Runaway Results in Instant Death to a Farmer.

TOPEKA, Kan., Oct. 5.—Gotfried Gruetze, a wealthy German farmer living near Goffs, Nemaha county, had his head completely severed from his body in a runaway accident two miles west of his home yesterday.

He was driving a spirited team and met a woman on horseback wearing a large flowing cape. The wind spread out the garment, frightening Mr. Gruetze's team. They ran down the road at a terrific rate and turning short brought up in a ditch.

The story was so sudden that Mr. Gruetze was thrown completely over the team, landing on a barb fence. He struck on his neck with such force that the wire severed it completely, his head falling on one side and his body on the other.

IRON TRADE REVIEW. Very Little More Business Than There Was Last Week.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 5.—The Iron Trade Review says: "The situation in the iron market today is summed up in the statement that while there is very little or more business going, than at the same time last week, there are more producers in operation anxious to get what there is. This is particularly the case with all finished material."

"The mills that resumed on the strength of a handful of orders, in most cases, and the desire to increase tonnage so as to decrease cost, leads to unheard of quotations on all contracts of any size that come up. The situation is still dominated by the possibilities of congressional action. It is plain that the old pace will not come again until there is some assurance as to the price basis. When the new tariff act receives the president's signature, it will be possible to figure."

Half a Dozen Elders. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5.—The contract of Wells-Fargo & Co. with the Southern Pacific Express company will expire in about a month and a half. Half a dozen express companies are preparing bids for the contract, among them the Adams Express company. The Wells-Fargo company have for nearly half a century had the control of business on this coast.

CITY WILL RETRENCH.

The Matter of Reducing the Amount of the City's Pay Rolls to be Investigated.

Bert Johnson Elected to Succeed F. H. Quinby, Deceased, After Eleven Ballots Had Been Taken.

A Memorial to the President and Congress Submitted by Secretary Thompson Was Not Adopted.

The council took steps last night to bridge over the present financial stringency and take steps to bridge over the channel between the city and the state. An alderman was elected to fill the vacancy in the Fourth ward caused by the death of F. H. Quinby, a big bundle of bills was allowed and the session was quite productive.

Everyone was present except President Spencer. Vice President Helm presided. There was a goodly audience, mainly composed of would-be weightlifters, and as that question did not come up they were disappointed.

City Attorney Greene presented a communication as to the title to a submerged lot on Minnesota Point, which it is desired to deed to the government for the purposes of a signal station. Mr. Greene cited authorities to show that it was by no means certain just where the title rested, but in view of the circumstances, was of opinion that the city would be safe to accept a warranty deed from the Western Land association and by the same instrument, deed to the United States.

The fire commissioners recommended that $100 be paid to Christian Thorsen for damages caused by a fire engine running into his store, $25 for damage to stock and building and $50 because the store was necessarily closed on the Fourth of July. Mr. Thorsen asked for $250.

A committee report was adopted recommending that the ordinance relating to the $200,000 bonds be amended to provide payment of principal and interest in gold.

Alderman Cox, of the committee on officers, recommended the appointment of Otto Zeigler and Charles H. Leland on the police force be confirmed, but that John Levine, James McNeil, William Garrett and John O'Connor be rejected. Later when the matter came up for a vote Alderman Hugo explained that four men were turned down because their services were not needed. He thought this explanation was due to the men themselves, against whom otherwise there might be a successful reelection campaign.

Alderman Cox would see the matter in a proper light and accept an explanatory amendment. Alderman Cox did not appear to be quite so sure, but as he had nothing the amendment was tacked on just as the non-confidential resolution was sliding through.

Alderman Hugo moved to proceed to ballot for an alderman from the Fourth ward, and on motion the question was referred to the ballot. Alderman Hugo and Howard were appointed tellers. It was so very quiet and pleasant that it looked a little as if the whole thing was cooked and baited. The first ballot showed differently. Philo Westaway had 3, H. C. Kendall 2 and Bert Johnson 7. The feeler cast out for Kendall was quickly drawn in and on the second ballot his votes went to Westaway, who thus had 5 votes to Johnson's 7. And Johnson's 7 stuck to him until they were on the eleventh ballot, when by another, which gave him 8, the required number to elect, against 4 for Westaway.

Now and then there would be a scattering ballot cast where it would be followed later in the evening by the cigar. Billy Craig nearly fell off his chair when his name appeared with one vote tacked onto it. It was whispered about that Mr. Craig does not live in the Fourth ward and as there was not time for carrying the genial manager of the gas and water company saw this momentary glimmer of future stardom.

Before proceeding to the regular order of business Alderman Hugo made a speech on the present financial stringency. He did not look for better times for several months and thought the city's affairs should be treated as those of any private business which is properly conducted; that the situation should be fairly faced and the garment cut according to the cloth, as it were. He finished by reading a resolution directing all heads of departments to report what reduction, if any, could be made in the clerical force and whether the reduction in monthly pay rolls should be by cutting off employees, reducing pay or reducing the hours of work and perhaps even employing more men at smaller salaries. It was the desire of the aldermen to share in any reduction that might be adopted. The resolution was adopted unanimously.

The payrolls for September were then adopted and orders directed to be drawn, payable in sixty days with 8 per cent interest.

OLD AGE OF INDIANS.

Defying All Rules of Health They Keep Well and Strong.

The Remarkable Longevity of the Indian Race Explained.—For Every Indian 100 Years They Have a Cure—They Know Where to Find the Roots, Herbs and Barks that will keep them in Good Health—The Secret Now Given to the World.

Indians are long lived. There are many Kickapoo now living before white men ever set foot on the soil of their native domain. Their lives have been spent with nature. Born to good health, as the saying goes, they keep it.

Think how they live, eat, sleep, travel about, exposed to climatic changes, poisons, dirt, and disease, and yet they live so long. It is not the climate, but the secret of their health.

Yet, look at the white man. Chronic Rheumatism? Never. Malaria and Chills? Very rarely. Indigestion? Occasional. Syphilis? Perhaps. While any of the numerous afflictions of the white man, Kickapoo Indians are frequently found among the whites, it is rarely heard of among the Indians.

Why is this? For centuries these children of nature have studied the secrets of health. They have known where to look in the forest and field for a certain cure for the ills which arise from the pollution of nature's laws. At the first sign, the first symptoms of sickness, they resort to their "Secrets"—the most potent, remedial combination of roots and herbs known to the Indian or any other race.

A combination so valuable that the learned professor of Physiology at Yale University has pronounced it, and could offer no suggestions.

Science surpassed by Indian craft! Nature subdued by Indian wisdom! Indians are subject to ills of the flesh, but they have a remedy for all. Kickapoo Indian Cough Cure breaks up their colds and stops their coughs. Reason for Rejoicing. Capt. This is a significant and pregnant fact and is a source of great interest to the Mesaba men.

California's Fruit Crop. $5,000,000 worth of fruit was sold last year. Do you want to know where and at what profit the golden orange is raised? Do you want to know where and what profit the orange is raised? Do you want to know where and what profit the orange is raised?

Hard Times Economy. Scores of women in Duluth are economizing on their clothing this fall. Yet their gowns, jackets and wraps look new and are of fashionable color. A few packages of Diamond Dyes have made their faded, dingy and worn garments as good as new with but little expense or work. For home-dyeing, use only Diamond Dyes, as they are simple, strong, and perfectly reliable.

Thousands of people are looking Californiaward. They want to know where to go to raise fruit and how to travel cheaply and comfortably. For full answer to these questions, address CALIFORNIA BUREAU OF INFORMATION, Room 1136 Guaranty Loan Building, Minneapolis, Minn.

IRATE HUSBANDS.

An Individual Gets Into Trouble By Using His Tongue Too Freely.

A man known as the Boston Brawler, has got himself into serious trouble by talking too much about other people. He is said to have made the assertion that "there were not five decent women residing upon Duluth Heights and he could prove it." Having made this sweeping statement, Mr. Boston Brawler betook himself to a lumber camp for a vacation, but Nemesis overtook him in the shape of twelve irate Duluth Heights husbands armed and accounted for a necktie party. They took their man and brought him back with them, and are now holding him in duress.

The alleged slanderer is to have three days in which to produce evidence of his allegations and the court of Duluth Heights husbands has decreed that if he fails to make out a case sufficiently satisfactory to said court, Mr. Boston Brawler will be treated to a free ride on a nice new rail from one end of Superior street to the other. The place of his confinement is at present a mystery but it is said he is not being badly treated, and if punishment is meted out to him as proposed, it will be done in a decent and orderly manner as possible under the circumstances.

OPENED A TUG OFFICE

Vesselmen Complain That the Range Lights in St. Louis Bay Are Not Attended To.

Several Accidents Which Have Happened Within a Few Days Because the Lights Were Not Lit.

Commodore Inman has established a tug office at the Duluth, Missabe & Northern company's ore dock, and Charles Jacobson, formerly night man at the main dock, will be in charge. The business at the ore dock is so great that it will be necessary to keep at least one tug there all the time to shift vessels and do little jobs. The new office will have telephone connection with the main office which will facilitate the handling of the Inman fleet.

There is considerable complaint about the way the range lights are handled in the St. Louis channel above the Minnesota draw—the back range. Several times lately they have not been lit and small accidents have resulted.

On the evening of Sept. 20 there were no lights, but fortunately accidents were avoided and the only real inconvenience was the slowness and caution with which boats were necessarily moved.

On the night of Sept. 30 the lights were again out. The Presley and 102 came into collision and both sustained injuries that sent them into dry dock for a few hours.

Last night again there were no lights and as a result No. 116 got aground. She was not on very hard and the tugs soon got her off.

Though somewhat narrow the West Duluth channel is wide enough for the present, except when the lights are out. Vesselmen are getting pretty hot and someone's carelessness is likely to bring out a great row before long.

Marine Notes.
The tug Mystic took the schooner Sam T. Flint to Ashland last night for lumber and this morning the Stanwood left for Two Harbors with the schooner Cobb.

There is a fair demand for wheat today at 3 cents for Buffalo. Just what the ore rate is not made public. One party claims to have a contract for $1 for October loading, but prominent vessel agents take this statement with a grain of salt.

Oswego Reaching Out for Business.
September 25 Hingson, Rogers & O'Brien, the well known Buffalo contractors, completed for Gaylord, Downey & Co., of Oswego, the work of excavating the rock bottom of the Oswego river in front of their Northwestern elevator, giving a channel of seventeen feet deep at the present stage of the lake.

dredging has been done, and now upper lake steamers of the largest size can unload at the elevators drawing sixteen feet and over, and can readily turn the river harbor and load coal to full depth at either the New York, Ontario & Western or the Delaware, Lacawanna & Western trestle in the outer harbor. The Oswego evidently proposes to handle its share of the upper lake business, and vessel men need not hesitate to load to the full depth of the Welland canal for that port.

She Went On in Clear Weather.
Some particulars concerning the stranding of the steamship Wilhelm on Pigeon shoal, Lake Ontario, are furnished by Capt. Hancock, of the barge Nirvana, the consort of the Wilhelm, which released Oswego Friday evening. Capt. Hancock states that the weather was bright and clear and everything going well up to the time that the steamer struck. The only explanation which Capt. Hancock has for the accident is that Capt. Kinzie steered too close to the land in passing and ran upon the shoal. The Wilhelm was released yesterday in leaking condition and proceeded to Oswego for repairs.

New Lights.
The lighthouse board has recommended to Secretary Carlisle for incorporation into his forthcoming estimates the construction of from fifteen to twenty new lights on the lakes ranging from the lowest to the highest order of lights.

Lawyers Beaten Out of Sight.
CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—The libelling of the schooner C. P. Minch at Buffalo for $1000 was due to the remarkable claim of a discharged mate, who alleges that the vessel was under the command of the captain when the Minch was ashore on Lake Superior saved the vessel and was worth $1000. This is the highest fee ever charged for a mate's advice on a lake schooner. Capt. A. L. Fitch, of F. Phipps & Co., has left for Buffalo and will of course contest the claim.

Raymond and Hamburg, the men charged with holding up a Swede named Ellstrom, were in the municipal court on trial this afternoon.

In the police court this morning George Atkinson went up for ten days and William Peck paid $12.50 for drunkenness. The case of Kate H. was charged with larceny, was continued and an attachment ordered issued for Charles and Ida Casper, two missing witnesses.

A Deserved Promotion.
Frank A. Greene, city ticket agent of the Northern Pacific and Wisconsin Central lines in Duluth, has been appointed city ticket and passenger agent of the Wisconsin Central at St. Paul, a new office created since the lease to the Northern Pacific was set aside. The appointment is a deserved promotion, highly gratifying to Mr. Greene. It will be effective on or ten days before Mr. Greene assumes his new duties.

F. E. Donovan, who has been first assistant in the Minneapolis office of the Northern Pacific and Central lines, has been appointed to succeed Mr. Greene and arrived this morning to assume his new duties.

The Gross Case Decided.
The general land commissioner has decided the contest case, Telephone Phonograph against Emma Gross in favor of the defendant, confirming the decision of the local land officers. This case involves the title to the 2 1/2 and 2 1/2 of section 25, 25-18, and is important on account of its supposed value of the lands. The taking of official proofs was resumed today at the land office and affairs have again taken their usual course.

A New Law Firm.
Mr. R. C. Rude and Mr. James A. Boggs have formed a law partnership and will have their offices at Nos. 330 and 331 Chamber of Commerce building. Mr. R. C. Rude has been a resident of Duluth for about one year, coming here from St. Augustine, Florida, where he was counsel for the St. Augustine & South Beach railroad and St. Augustine & North Beach railroad, also private counsel for H. M. Flagler, of the Standard Oil company.

Prior to his going to Florida, he practiced law at Wellsville, N. Y. He is looked upon by those who know him as a man of more than ordinary ability, both as a lawyer and a scholar. In his arrival at Duluth he formed a partnership with Messrs. d'Autremont and Thurman, which partnership was dissolved, Mr. Rude retiring.

Mr. Boggs is well known in this community, having practiced law here for some years, retiring from practice in 1889 and resuming practice in August of this year.

JURY CASES FINISHED.
Last Jury Trial is Drawing to a Close—Court Cases Tomorrow.

Judge Ensign is not holding court today and at noon today the last jury case of the term—Erkelson against the gas and Water company—was drawing rapidly to a close before Judge Lewis. All other jurors have been discharged.

In the case of Frederick W. Paine against Josiah B. Scovell the jury yesterday afternoon returned a verdict for plaintiff of $1646.53. A stay of twenty days was granted.

The case of Craig against Bond was continued until next term, as certain exhibits could not be found and Stenographer Stearns was too ill to appear in court and read certain evidence. The case of William F. Marvin against Clarence H. Foster et al. was also continued.

The case of Frank Jacobson against Albert Kito et al. came up before Judge Ensign yesterday. Defendant moved for judgment on the pleadings because the complaint did not show facts constituting a cause of action. The motion was granted. Plaintiff's attorney moved to amend, but it was then too late.

Jacob R. Myers et al. against Duluth Transfer Railway company et al. was dismissed.

The following setting of court cases has been made for tomorrow: Nos. 16, 21, 25, 31, 32, 34, 35, 39, 40, 41, 43.

WIND BLEW FIERCELY.

A Northeast Gale Was on Last Night and Caused Some Trouble in the Harbor.

The Schooner Rhodes Broke Away From Two Tugs and Ran Aground Near the Bridge.

She Was Pulled Off in a Few Minutes This Morning—A Dredge Broke Away.

The wind was from the northeast last night and for a time blew great guns. About 9:30 the schooner Rhodes, which had just come into port light for lumber, was being taken to Gray's mill by the tugs Mystic and Pearl B. Campbell. Just before reaching the Minnesota draw the wind struck the schooner in all its fury. Though a pretty hard job the tugs would have been able to handle the Rhodes, but at a critical point a break occurred in the Mystic's machinery and the schooner swung out of the channel broadside onto the bank where she stuck hard and fast about 150 feet from the Northern Pacific bridge.

She was as safe as if riding at anchor in snug harbor, and no effort was made during the night to get her off. Her captain said this morning that she was stuck out about three inches.

After fifteen minutes work this morning the Inman tugs floated the Rhodes about 10 o'clock and took her to Gray's mill for her cargo of lumber.

During the hardest of the blow a dredge and scow—probably the property of Capt. C. S. Barker, of West Superior—broke loose from their fastenings and drifted onto the Northern Pacific bridge. The bridge was not damaged any, but additional precaution was taken with all trains last night for fear some of the piles had been broken.

Future of the Columbus.
Capt. McArthur, of the whaleback steamer Christopher Columbus, pronounced the statement that "if the negotiations now in progress are successful the whaleback passenger steamer Christopher Columbus will be chartered to the Cleveland & Buffalo Transit company" "idle newspaper twaddle." No action of any kind has as yet been taken in regard to the future movements of the steamer, nor is there likely to be anything done immediately in that direction.

The contract of the Christopher Columbus with the World's Fair Steamship company will expire Oct. 31. Her next move will be to take on a cargo of flour for Buffalo and from that point proceed to West Superior with package freight, at the same time towing two or three steamer tugboats. That will close her season. The present belief of Capt. McArthur is that the Columbus will be returned to Lake Michigan for excursion business between Chicago and Milwaukee, making similar trips on alternate days between Chicago and St. Joseph, Mich.

About 9:30 the schooner Rhodes, which had just come into port light for lumber, was being taken to Gray's mill by the tugs Mystic and Pearl B. Campbell. Just before reaching the Minnesota draw the wind struck the schooner in all its fury. Though a pretty hard job the tugs would have been able to handle the Rhodes, but at a critical point a break occurred in the Mystic's machinery and the schooner swung out of the channel broadside onto the bank where she stuck hard and fast about 150 feet from the Northern Pacific bridge.

FIRST CALL!

We sound today the first formal announcement of the Opening of the Fall Season, pledging therein the absolute assurance of value and quality in the strongest combination ever presented the people of this city.

Many causes have led to this happy result; our close connections with the best makes;
the practical success of the past made us positive we were in the right in selections; the financial stringency, having reduced values as never before; having caught the market when the depression was most severe, with ready money we gained every advantage; and with strong confidence in the future we bought largely so that now we meet you with a Fall Stock thorough and complete in every requirement and detail.

FALL SUITS—Are in the favorite styles of Double and Single-Breasted Sacks, Three-Button Cutaway and Prince Albert, made from undressed and fancy Worsteds, Cheviots, Cassimeres, Homespuns in blacks, blues, grays, etc.

FALL SUITS From $10.00 to $25.00.

Fall Overcoats In style vary but little from last year, long cut with a few little wrinkles in collars, cuffs, pockets, etc., but we have them in all these little up to date features of the best custom tailors art. There's no change in materials. Shades are perhaps a little more quiet than last year.

Fall Overcoats From $5.00 to $25.00.

Our styles are correct, we handle only the best makes of Men and Boys' Clothing. We want you to come and look beneath the surface—there are no whitewash qualities—last year we quit with clear tables—so the stock's fresh. We meet you with the lowest prices named —every price filled with quality. More than ever we urge comparison this fall—it's been a money-saver to you before—it'll be more than ever so this fall.

Money Saved, is Money Gained!

Therefore, follow the above motto and apply immediately to the undersigned for either a Gas or Water Meter, and rest assured that you will save money. The demand has been so great during the past two months that we couldn't get meters fast enough from the manufacturers to supply the demand.

We Received This Week a Large Consignment, and Are Prepared to Set Them on Short Notice.

PLEASE BEAR IN MIND THAT WE HAVE MADE A

BIG REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF GAS!

At the price we are now selling gas, it is the cheapest light in the market, and we guarantee you satisfactory service. Our would-be competitors are not in it. We have them on the run and propose to keep them that way.

Fuel Gas! Fuel Gas! Fuel Gas!

It is surprising the demand for Gas Stoves. The two hundred Gas Stoves we set during the past year are giving such perfect success that the wonder of the consumer is "how they ever got along before without a Gas Stove." We positively guarantee that gas used for cooking purposes is cheaper than coal. So leave your order for a Stove early as the season is drawing near when the manufacturers cannot supply the demand.

Call Upon Us and Leave Your Application for a Meter or Your Order for a Stove, or Telephone Us, No. 54, and One of Our Representatives Will Call Upon You.

GENTLEMEN: I feel it my duty, as well as a pleasure to publish, unobscured, to the world the benefit received from Dr. Miles' RESTORATIVE. I was stricken down with Heart Disease and its complications, a rapid pulse varying from 90 to 100 beats per minute, a choking or burning sensation in the wind pipe, oppression in the chest, in the throat, in the head, in the arms, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, weakness and general debility. The arteries in my neck would throbb violently, the throbbing of my heart could be heard across a large room and would shake my whole body. I was so nervous that I could not hold my hand steady. I have been under the treatment of eminent physicians, and have taken gallons of Patent Medicines without the least benefit. A friend recommended your medicine. I was cured by Dr. Miles' medicine. I have taken three bottles of your New Cure and two bottles of Nervine. My pulse is normal, I have no more violent throbbing of the heart, I am a well man. I sincerely recommend every one with symptoms of Heart Disease, to take Dr. Miles' Restorative. It is the best medicine I have ever used.

FEATHERS FLY FAST

The Duluth Shooters Had Good Sport and Found Plenty of Ducks During the Week.

Hunting Accidents Are Liable to Overcrowd the Hospitals and Cemeteries, Unless Sportsmen Are Careful.

Messrs. Wallace and Shepard Fail to Get Sheriff Sharpy Down to Perham to Hunt.

Although the season opened in Wisconsin the first of the week the Duluth hunters have not been over after deer yet, the good flight of ducks keeping them on the lakes and rice fields in this state. Good bags are brought in by every party that goes and even better sport is expected later on.

So many accidents have already happened this season it is getting to be looked upon as a common every day occurrence for some enthusiastic hunter to shoot a companion or someone else, mistaking him for a bear or because of lack of knowledge of how to use a gun. Such accidents are simply criminal carelessness and persons who commit such crimes should not be allowed sportsmen's privileges. The humane society proposes to put a stop to the slaughter of harmless birds and to this end the boys in the public schools are to be lectured on the subject and warned of the consequences if caught in the act of murdering the few song birds that grace our short summers with their cheerful presence. If lessons were also given in the proper use of fire arms there would be fewer vacant seats Monday mornings.

Joe Dodge and H. H. Myers took a twenty-five mile trip up Rice river, going in at Aitkin. On the way back Mr. Dodge stopped at Sandy river and added a couple of hundred ducks to his score. On his strings were a black mallard, a dozen of the prettiest of all ducks, the wood duck, and a couple of prairie chickens.

Drs. Day and Metcalf spent a couple of days on Sandy river and got a good number. While absent from camp sneak thieves got away with 200 shells and thirty ducks.

E. S. Radcliffe and D. P. Redding were up the Mississippi for ducks.

E. P. Towne, F. Mahon, J. C. Hunter and Howard Abbott are on a hunting trip up the range.

Capt. Wallace, of Tower, and Amos Shepard are down at Perham. They are evidently lonesome or find the game too deep for them, for they telegraphed for Sheriff Sharpy to come down and help them out, but it would not work.

George C. Howe, John Pantan, B. C. Church, and J. C. Schaefer are back from a hunting trip in Dakota.

Bede's Budget has the following item and it must be true for Bede never tells fish stories except they be of a political character. H. I. Nelson, leader of the Radicals, is not allowed to communicate with his friends in Kosario. The citizens have petitioned the president to pardon all political prisoners.

President Pena has issued a manifesto saying he proposes to govern the country with his advisers, without regard to politics and that honest men will receive benefits at his hands without preference.

Bodies of cavalry are still pursuing the retreating rebels. Several hundred colonists were killed during the recent attack on Santa Fe.

Talking of Lynching.
APPLETON, Wis., Oct. 7.—The sheriff has just captured Alford Donahue and George Deloye, the two men who gagged, brutally beat and robbed Thomas McGillan, an old farmer residing at Center, Wis., Wednesday night. ### WILL RESUME THE SEIGE.

The Brazilian Insurgents Will Again Bombard Rio.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The Herald's Montevideo correspondent cables: Information reached here last night that Admiral Mello, commanding the insurgents' squadron in the bay of Rio Janeiro has ordered his troops to abandon the city within forty-eight hours or the fleet will resume its bombardment of the city. The diplomatic corps is in favor of Peixoto withdrawing from Rio, as it believes such a course on his part would terminate the war.

A report is current in Rio Janeiro that the diplomatic body has warned President Peixoto that if his forces be withdrawn from the capital by Sunday next the foreign powers will recognize the insurgents as belligerents.

Peixoto, however, refuses to yield, and is making fresh preparations to carry on operations with greater vigor than he has yet shown. The diplomatic corps in Rio Janeiro has warned Admiral Mello that he must abstain from throwing shot and shell into the undefended part of town, otherwise the foreign ships in the harbor will be ordered to prevent him from bombarding the town.

Will Send no Photograph.
George D. Barnard & Co. of St. Louis have written several times to County Auditor La Vague asking for a cabinet photograph of the court house. They are getting out a catalogue showing the principal buildings in which their metallic filing cases are used. Mr. La Vague may say that he will be a candidate for the votes of the people and he likes to keep his record clean. He will not send the photograph. If there is one thing on earth Duluth is not proud of it is her court house. For a time Mr. La Vague contemplated sending a picture of the new government building or the Central High school, but abandoned the scheme as too risky.

The Hall Notified.

W. W. Russell, the Canadian geologist, returned last night from a tour of investigation of the Mesabi range. Mr. Russell's modesty and reticence are proverbial among his friends and he could not be drawn out to any extent when questioned. He, however, admitted that half the possibilities of the range had not been told as yet and that all his doubts as to the practicality of mining iron ore with steam shovels had been removed. Mr. Russell will return to his home at Port Arthur, Ont., by the next boat.

Emigrants, commercial men, tourists, mariners and travelers seeking to the preservation of health under conditions of such persons relating to the protective and remedial qualities of Hester's stomach bitters, a very valuable remedy to those who traverse "the briny deep," or are subjected to malarial influences or out door exposure. With as much certainty as Dr. Koch's celebrated lymph destroys the organic microbe, the Bitters counteracts unhealthy germs in malarial tainted air and brackish water. It prevents and removes disorders caused by poor and unaccustomed food and restores tranquility to worn out nerves and weary brains. Rheumatism, kidney and liver complaint, cramp-colic and dyspepsia are among the ailments that it subdues.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

There Remains But a Short Time Before the Travel to the World's Fair Will Cease.

Duluthians Are Already Coming Home, the Chicago Air Being Just a Little Chilly Now.

A Few Little Afternoon and Evening Parties Are All That Can Be Recorded This Week.

The familiar expression, "gone to the world's fair," will soon be a thing of the past, although just at present it is more in use than ever, especially as regards people prominent in Duluth society. The contingent from this city now at the great White City is very large and is increasing, but this will not be for long. Chilly weather is coming on in Chicago and it is just a little unpleasant there at present. Each day is bringing home one or more Duluthians, who have spent several weeks there.

The Bridge Question.

Superior Telegram: The people of Superior might as well understand this thing just as it is, and then do as they please about it. If they want no bridge at all then the thing to do is to grant the franchise to the cities of Superior and Duluth, for a proper bridge on Connor's Point will cost over $300,000, as estimated by competent engineers. It has always been the argument of the people objecting to any bridge to have the cities build and have, but this has no change in the bill now before congress permits the cities to buy the bridge at any time at cost.

If you want no bridge at all, therefore, give the cities a charter; but if you do want a bridge, give the franchise to some corporation with all the restriction possible.

JENNESS-MILLER'S SISTER.

The Famous Lecturer to Women Sets Them an Example.

"A beautiful woman in a beautiful gown" is the way they describe her.

"The Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix finds fault with women," says the New York Sun, "for thinking more about their personal charms than about their souls, but Miss Mabel Jenness feels it her duty to instruct them as to the best use of those charms in the attainment of a 'correct and elegant carriage,' and by the proper 'artistic care of the body.' In her view the soul expresses itself through the body, and action goes on between the two, with the result that physical grace has a moral value."

As Mrs. Jenness-Miller is known the world over for her ideas on dress reform, so her sister, Miss Mabel Jenness, whose likeness is given above, is celebrated for her crusade for physical culture among the gentler sex.

Her system of physical training is attracting a great deal of attention. "She is herself a society girl, and yet finds time to practice her system," says the Sun, "to practice her system, and in the midst of her multitudinous duties is never tired, never sick, doesn't know where her nerves are, and is the picture of health and vigor. The reason is apparent in a letter written July 19, 1893, from Washington, D. C.:

"I was induced," writes Miss Jenness, "to try Paine's celery compound at a time when I was suffering from overwork and the effect of an accident. I began immediately to realize tonic and blood-nourishing effects. I take pleasure in saying that, although opposed to medicine in general, I really consider this an excellent preparation.

"I have not been able to take one day's rest since I returned from my long, hard

Western trip. I am sure were it not for Paine's celery compound, which has a tonic effect, I should not be able to keep up and work hard.

"I recommended Paine's celery compound to a friend who dined with me yesterday, and on leaving here she went and bought a bottle. I shall do all I can for it, for I believe in it."

So the society woman, whose health and grace are famous the country over, and who is in a position to command the best medical advice, finds in Paine's celery compound the same relief from the effects of overwork and illness that the poorer, harder working woman finds.

And this great remedy that makes people well is equally within the reach of all. It is for sale in every respectable drug store in the country, and is in greater demand today than any remedy in the world.

It is the one true specific for diseases arising from a debilitated nervous system, probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth college, has prescribed what is now known as Paine's celery compound, and the world over as Paine's celery compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, and kidney troubles. For the latter Paine's celery compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

Washington correspondents have recently given it a great deal of attention since the cures effected in that city.

The medical journals of the country have given more space in the last few years to the many remarkable cases where the use of Paine's celery compound has made people well than to any other one subject. Try it and be better.

A BRIDGE IS NEEDED

G. G. Hartley V Points Out the Advantages of a Wagon Bridge Between Duluth and Superior.

Passage of the Getty Resolution Might Delay the Construction of a Bridge For Years.

Narrow-Minded Factional Warfare That is Always Cropping Out in the Chamber of Commerce.

To the Editor of The Herald:

At the head of the lake there is, today, more of a city than some of its realize. Our vessel tonnage, received and discharged, is more than half that of Chicago. We received of the last wheat crop between forty and fifty million bushels; nearly as much as Chicago; one year we received more wheat than Chicago. This year we will manufacture and distribute three or four hundred million feet of lumber. Not known as a flour manufacturer a few years ago, this year we will manufacture several million barrels. We will receive and sell over a million tons of coal. During this year in the iron business we will ship from this county one and a half million tons of ore—perhaps more than any previous year. In jobbing line we have an immense and growing trade with new and substantial houses starting all month, even in these close times. There is more flour handled and shipped by vessels from here than from any other port on the great lakes.

While our immediately surrounding territory is rich in minerals and lumber, it is not certain; we have not the people of a settled agricultural region to come in with teams, or by railway train, to buy goods of our retail stores; the best facilities should therefore be afforded our shops and stores to reach such trade as may be tributary to them. To become great we must build up a wholesale mercantile trade; we must be a city of merchants; to do this we should begin by pre-empting our home field and supplying our own local trade. House trade is the best and most profitable; nothing will aid us more in this than a wagon bridge between these two cities.

Almost all lines are now represented in both cities and strange as it seems, the wholesale houses of either city can sell goods to the retail houses of its neighbor easier than at home; yet delivery from either city to the other is done, if at all, at great inconvenience by ferry or railway, and at a cost equal to a fair profit. Consider these two cities by a wagon bridge and, at once, we enjoy the prestige of one large city, instead of two small ones. Give us a free intercourse with each other, and we will become better acquainted, and better built up at the head of the lakes, a great city, separated in name and municipal government only. All local jealousy should be set at naught in a matter of so much importance to every merchant, coal dealer, lumber dealer and every property owner and resident of Superior and Duluth.

The street railway companies of the two cities have invested, of their own money and that borrowed, over $2,000,000, and are today struggling to give these cities a first class service, and perhaps I might with propriety suggest, that they and their patrons should have some consideration in this matter. The tracks of the two companies are within 1000 feet of each other; transfer by ferry is dangerous, inconvenient and expensive and for half the year, entirely obstructed. We are now bringing people from Connors Point in West Superior to Duluth for five cents. At St. Paul and Minneapolis, where bridges are more expensive than here, their necessity has been appreciated, and they have many. At Chicago, where the vessel traffic is greater than ours, wagon bridges abound in plenty; yet, with all our achievements, we have failed to get this much needed wagon and foot bridge between our two cities; and we are strangers where we ought to be neighbors—we are two towns while, in many respects, we ought to be one city working solidly for the head of the lake.

In a report of the proceedings of our city council, at its last meeting, I notice the following: "Alderman Getty presented a resolution prepared in accordance with the recommendations of the acting railroad commissioner protesting against the passage by congress of any bill granting the right to build a bridge from Duluth to Superior to any person, persons or corporation other than the cities themselves."

What would this mean if our council should pass it and our delegation at Washington should pay enough attention or respect to the chosen representatives of our tax-payers and citizens to let this bridge matter drop? The fact is, the city of Superior is prohibited by its charter from joining in building a bridge between the two cities, and under the Wisconsin law, their charter cannot be changed until they are shown by a regular census enumeration to have a population of over 30,000 people; hence this resolution asks that the bridge project be dropped for years to come.

It is enough to make old Du Luth turn over in his grave to think that this city is forever to be cursed with such narrow-minded, one-horse, jealous, stupid cranks; always willing and anxious to sacrifice the interest of the city that feeds them, to satisfy some petty, personal spite. Of course it is only consistent that the city should pay some attention to the dictates of the chamber of commerce, as it pays the chamber $400 or $500 per month just at this time when payrolls are so hard to meet and taxes are such a burden.

It is also laudable on the part of the chamber that it give something for all this money and, as it cannot find anything to do in the way of building up, I suppose it must be indulged in its weak efforts to tear down and obstruct what others are trying to do. However, as the chamber has of late been so full of wild fancies and chimerical schemes (such as sending its officers out to stump the Third congressional district) it seems to me, it might be started off on some other tangent, just at this time, that would afford it more harmless pastime. There are plenty of idle bodies living around.

Our city was disgraced last season when the clerk sent to every member of the Minnesota delegation a copy of a resolution opposing this same bridge plan and a certificate of its passage, over the seal of the city, which was followed up by a letter, to each of these congressmen, stating that the certificate was a fraud, and that the resolution was not passed. Will Duluth never outgrow such narrow-minded, factional, non-commercial warfare and take hold and improve on what nature and the development of the great Northwest have done and are doing for her? Our city council cannot afford to listen to such stuff and place itself in opposition to such an important improvement; and I do not believe it will. If it does, our representatives in congress ought to ignore its resolutions.

An Eminent Professor of Nervous Diseases Says:

"The People Should Know More About Themselves."

Dr. A. von Schrenck-Notzurg, University of Munich, who has made a world wide reputation for himself as a specialist in Nervous Diseases affecting "Man," says:

The Owner of Tammany.

Marcus Daly, the copper king, is said to possess $1,000,000 worth of horseflesh, but the start of his entire stable is Tammany, the conqueror of Lamp-lighter and one of the greatest thoroughbreds on the turf today. It is said of Mr. Daly that he thinks more of horses and less of his great animals than any other horse owner. He rarely sees them but leaves his great horses to the trainers to train. Marcus Daly, who he pays $18,000 annually. He lives at Helena and rarely leaves his business to see his thoroughbreds run.

Racing is not a bad thing, however, for he makes money on the turf as successfully as he does in mining. Daily paid $10,000 for Tammany, and last year the grand horse won $78,000. He is somewhat of a plunger on his horses occasionally, and it is said that he won $50,000 in bets alone when his great horse Montana won the Suburban handicap last year. His stable is also said to have netted him over $125,000 in 1892. His premier jockey is "Snapper" Garrison, whom he pays $10,000 a year.

When Mr. Daly came to this country from Ireland, he had no money, but by digging potatoes on a California ranch he was enabled to save money enough to get to the mines. For a time he worked as a miner, and at last his knowledge of minerals led him to form a stock company with J. B. Haggin and the late senator George Hearst, and they purchased the Anaconda mine, then being worked for gold and silver. After a time a shaft was sunk 125 feet, and the largest copper veins ever found were tapped. Today the Anaconda is the richest copper mine in the world. In 10 years Daly has spent the enormous sum of $4,000,000 in wages and for operating the mines and the smelters. No one but the owners know how much more in the shape of profit has come out of these mines.

THIS IS THE TIME OF YEAR WHEN Men and Women BECOME

weakened by the weather, and run down generally.

Few people understand why this is so.

Let us tell you why it is:

The first parts that the weather affects are the kidneys. The urea is not thrown off, but is forced back upon the lungs and disease results.

But It Was Caused

By Weakness of the Kidneys.

There is only one way known to medicine or men for promptly checking kidney troubles and restoring these great organs to health and strength, and that is by the use of Warner's Safe Cure.

It has stood the test of time: It has saved millions of lives; It has restored millions of sufferers to health;

It has done what was never done, never attempted before:

It has made men stronger and healthier;

It has made women lighter and happier;

It stands alone in all these qualities.

Do you not think it would be wise for you to understand the dangers of the season's fault upon having it.

THE SIAMESE TWINS.

Bill Nye Says That They Were Very Near to Each Other in Many Ways.

Though They Differed Somewhat in Their Ideas and Habits, They Were Nevertheless Quite Inseparable.

Story of Their Intimate Life Told in a Manner That Must Touch Every Heart.

(Copyright, 1893, by Edgar W. Nye.)

MOORE, ARIZ., Sept. 26. This town is a post village of Sonora county, this state, and has cotton factories, flour mills, shoe factories for men and boys, tobacco factories for the same purpose, wool carding machines, mineral springs, newspapers, etc., but its principal hit was made as the home of the Siamese twins.

Setting here before the late war, these strange men, so different in character, yet so constantly thrown into each other's er's society by a circumstance which they could not prevent, and which was about 74 inches in length, lived until the winter of 1875-6 under the American name of Dunker. Here they were married, here their children were born, and here they died.

Recently I have had the pleasure of reading an instructive article on these gentlemen prepared by M. A. Dufour for a French journal, and with the items of interest offered me by the neighbors of Chang and Eng besides I venture to write a letter on these men talked of people from Siam.

M. Dufour goes on to state that "las deux frères" (the two brothers) were born in the village of Siam, in the province of Siam, in the year 1811. They were born on the same day, and were born with a single body and two heads. They were born with a single body and two heads. They were born with a single body and two heads.

On this last question there is a difference between authorities. M. Dufour, who was thoroughly familiar with his subject, states positively that they were not antagonistic regarding the great question of the right to maintain and extend slavery—in other words, that the two did not separate. Chang and Eng.

Yet I was told by a man who claimed to know them well that Chang owned one slave, while Eng did not, and did not favor the slave trade. Chang believed that slavery being a good thing, one could not have too much of it, and that states had the right to regulate it as they would the liquor traffic, while Eng believed that it was a national question and finally refused to help catch and return Chang's negro for him.

My informant said that this led to an intense strife between the two, and that when they were on their way home from the lodge, where Eng, not being a member, had reluctantly gone to see Chang take the thirty-second degree, they had an open rupture almost, after which Chang enlisted in the Confederate army and Eng in the northern army. Later, however, both deserted, noting how awkward it would be in case one should suddenly decide to die for mother, home and country, while the other favored longevity.

This same man told me that when Nancy Butler was born her father insisted that her Uncle Chang should run for the doctor.

Eng and Chang mean, in the Siamese tongue, with which I am perfectly familiar, "right" and "left." They were born at Bangsen, Siam, April 15, 1811, almost simultaneously.

They had a Chinese father, and their mother was one-half Chinese, the other half being Siamese.

In putting on their dress suits they left out the lower end of the shirt in order to give room for the strange colored cord which joined the two at the base of the sternum.

The sternum is the breast bone.

These two twins were brought to the United States at the age of 15 and were on exhibition up to the time they settled down at Mount Airy.

They appeared jointly.

Those who saw them say that Chang and Eng did much by their public appearances to elevate and refine those who saw them.

Still Chang was temperate, according to Dr. Jacobi, and many a time Eng, who was quiet and sober, had to go on in Chang's place as an understudy.

Eng was a Baptist, and on the day he united with the church, and was immersed Chang insisted on accompanying him in a beauteous state of intoxication.

These were the best known twins in history, living to the age of 84, or nearly so. The Two-headed Nightingale is living at the age of 42, but is still single—that is, unmarried. I do not know how I would propose to the Two-headed Nightingale. I might be acceptable to one of her reasoning faculties, while the other might be more sensitive to horrible sights and refuse.

Chang had some literary ambition, while Eng did not. Chang's love for rum was a pretty good sign that he was a genius. Night after night he would pull Eng out of bed while sound asleep and jerk him around in the dark, jolting down memoranda of thoughts he had during the night. Chang had invented what he called the author's friend. It consisted of an illuminated wall at one end of the room made of a mixture which lighted it up so that he could preserve a thought which had made its appearance during the night.

He also invented the Edinburgh joke and used it successfully while in Scotland.

They were more irritated against each other after the war than before, for Chang lost his nigger and bitterly reproached Eng for being at the bottom of it. On top of all this, Eng tried to reconstruct Chang.

Chang married some time before the idea occurred to Eng, and though he carried fully into the spirit which prompted Chang to well be often ill at ease and out of place sitting up late of nights during the courting and taking cold looking at the moon and pretending to be asleep.

Therefore he soon turned his attention toward marriage, and accompanied by his brother one evening made a proposal to Chang's sister-in-law. She rejected him, claiming that, according to her notions, relatives ought not to be too thick. Nevertheless it was Chang's wife, who with her father and mother, she could maintain, who induced her sister at last, while under the influence of wine jelly, to accept Eng, and for some time the four occupied the same house, ate at the same table and drank from the same canteen. But jealousy arose, and as a result each husband built a separate house. Chang would go over and visit Eng for a week, and then Eng would come over and spend a week with Chang.

They were passionately fond of horse back riding and baseball. Chang played in the Barry team and Eng in the Mount Airy Soxless nine. This was told me by the man who claimed that Chang was married quietly while Eng took his wife on a tour of European travel.

As farmers they had some trouble in certain kinds of work, but M. Dufour says that they often hoed in the field, using the "outside" arms to take hold of the hoe. They also enjoyed chopping wood, using the ax in the same manner. By a signal, consisting of a grunt, which seems to be necessary to the chopper anyway, the two struck simultaneously, the ax being grasped by the right hand of one and the left of the other, the hand nearest the ax being permitted to slip on the handle at the right moment, just as in ordinary chopping.

The children and grandchildren of Chang and Eng are scattered pretty well over the country. The brothers married two Misses Yates, and Nancy Dunker, the eldest child, had some educational advantages. She traveled in Europe with her father and uncle and acted as his secretary.

M. Dufour claims that the two brothers did not unite with the Baptist church, but that the widows and children did. Perhaps this is correct, for I am gradually losing faith in the man who said the brothers were immersed while Chang had a Siamese jag on.

Dr. Jacobi states that "the connection of the Siamese twins took place in their epigastric regions between the navel, which was common to both, and the epigastric processes, which were bent out in a forward direction and met very closely, held together by a ligamentous apparatus. The coupling itself was 8 inches in circumference and 24 in diameter. It contained a connection between the two livers and was composed partially of liver tissue."

The band was very curious from an anatomical standpoint, as the skin at the median line was mutually sensitive, and inside there was a combination of the peritoneum, so that after death a hand introduced into the abdomen of Chang entered two pouches reaching into Eng, and the reverse produced almost a similar result as to Chang.

Separation during life was therefore impossible.

One evening in the winter of 1875-6 Chang was found lying face down, and Eng, who was of a sociable turn of mind, joined him. After conversing for some time about their prospects, and finally getting somewhat acrimonious regarding their management, they at last compromised, agreeing that Chang should go under one management and Eng under another.

Then they dropped off to sleep. In the night a wild cry from Eng pierced the darkness, and when the family came

AT THE GRAVE OF THE TWINS.

Eng was found almost delirious with the discovery that he was linked to the dead body of his brother. He roared for an hour only, the fright and horror of his situation precipitating his death.

No cases are recorded of successful separation in cases similar to this, though it has been several times attempted.

Considerable trouble was made by the two sons, who came home from the west and heard on their arrival that the doctors had secured the bodies and gone away to get them photographed; also to see what made the "wheels go round." They gratified their morbid curiosity and then brought back the bodies, with thanks. The brothers were displeased about it, and so expressed themselves. Some people are perhaps morbidly sensitive about having their parents dissected that way.

A friend of mine named Quill Patterson says that his old doctor has Quill's father's stomach in alcohol, and that Quill has offered him over and over again four times what the organ is worth from a mercantile standpoint, hoping to obtain it and bury it with the old gentleman, the doctor claims that Quill can't positively identify it, and so just because Mr. Patterson, before his father's death, did not fix in his memory the features of the old gentleman's stomach so that he could recognize it anywhere he is now denied it by a man who has no real claim on it.

The Siamese twins were carefully examined by Drs. Hancock and Agnew of Philadelphia, after which they were photographed, and no one to look at them could have believed that they had been so recently and thoroughly operated.

The sons repented their fathers, but not in time to prevent the exploration. Two modest marble monuments mark the graves of these two strange men. It was first suggested that one large stone should be erected, but this was given up. The motto at the top was to have been:

UNITED WE STAND, DIVIDED WE FALL.

What the Dog Knew.

I happened one day to be in a Tennessee mountain town when an election was taking place, and there was one fellow who was doing more talking than anybody else and getting into repeated rows. He was followed everywhere by a sheep-headed dog, and late in the evening I found him on the edge of town in a most dilapidated condition, the result of a fight with the wrong man. The dog was trying to lead him home.

"Well," I said, "what's the matter?" "Fighting," was his brief response.

"You look it," said I, quite fearlessly, for I felt safe under the circumstances.

"That's a good dog you have. Do you want to sell him?"

"No, sir," he replied, brightening up a little. "Here, Carlo," he said, and the dog faced about and sat up.

Then he put him through a lot of difficult tricks, apparently forgetting all about his own battered condition.

"Why," I exclaimed, "blamed if he doesn't know as much as you do."

The man looked at me aggressively. "More, mister," he said; "he knows enough to keep his mouth shut."—Detroit Free Press.

Never It Was True.

Macready was playing in a country town and upon a night when he proposed to perform "Macbeth" a small scene painter was cast to act the Bleeding Sergeant. At rehearsal the "stat" was quiet enough, merely scanning the local performer as one prize fighter might judge of the points of another.

When the night came, however, a very different scene was enacted. The sergeant dashed on, dropped upon his knees and said:

"My lord, as I stood upon my watch upon the hill, Methought that Birnam wood 'gan move to Dunsinane."

Thereupon Macready, with a growl of rage and the words "Lie and slave!" rushed at the little man and shook him till his teeth rattled. The mauled performer made a bolt for it, and at the same time justified his conduct by screaming out: "It's true, my lord, Macready, sir. The stage manager told me to tell you"—Argonaut.

Rumple Pie.

The story is told of a well known New England clergyman that he once exchanged with a brother clergyman and was entertained at the house of a parishioner who was even too hospitable. She insisted upon his eating a large piece of mince pie for dinner, and the minister yielded against his better judgment.

The consequence was that he became violently ill and was unable to preach that afternoon. The doctor was summoned, and while one was ministering to his agonized patient the latter looked up and said feebly, but with an inimitable twinkle in his eye:

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic for the Week Beginning Oct. 3. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic: Faith in Jesus Christ. What is it? Rom. vi, 22; Eph. ii, 1-5.

Faith is one of the most important elements of Christianity. It is constantly emphasized in the Scriptures. Christians are enjoined to walk by faith, to be saved by faith, to overcome the world by faith, and to win the victory over death and the grave by this same faith in Jesus Christ. It is not without reason that we may have this for our topic and that we may be profited and benefited by it as such. Let us notice in reference to faith in Christ.

1. The character of faith in Christ. In Rom. vi, 22, we are told that the righteousness of God is not through the law, but by faith, and in Eph. ii, 17, Paul prays that Christ may dwell in the hearts of the Corinthians by faith. But what is this faith in Christ which does so much and which is so important? Briefly and plainly, it embraces two factors. 1. A belief in Christ as God's son and the only one who is able to save fallen man. This is simply a mental acceptance of all the historical facts concerning Jesus Christ as the Saviour of the world. This is the first step in faith, but this is not saving faith. A man may believe all this and yet not be saved. "Thou believest that there is one God," says James; "thou dost well; the devils also believe and tremble." Mental belief is not enough. There is one step more to be taken. The drowning man may believe that the rope thrown out to him is able to save him, but the rope will not save him. He must actually lay hold of the rope if he would be saved. 2. This then is the second step or element in saving faith—personal trust in Jesus Christ as a personal Saviour. First I must mentally believe the historical Scriptural facts concerning Christ, and secondly I must lay hold on Christ by personal trust in Him as my Saviour. This is what faith is—belief and trust. Have you believed? If so, do you also trust in Christ as your Saviour? If so, then you have faith in Christ; otherwise you have not.

2. The results of faith in Christ. These are very many. Our text, however, refers to but two: 1. Righteousness (Rom. iii, 22). Not absolute, personal righteousness, but God considers us as righteous or right before Him because of our faith. 2. The indwelling of Christ in the heart (Eph. iii, 17). This is a blessed result of true faith in Christ. Christ abides in us and we in Him, and as a consequence there come to us rich and manifold blessings.

Bible References—Hab. ii, 4; Mark i, 15; Luke xiv, 47; John iii, 15, 16; vi, 29; xiv, 1; Acts xi, 21; xx, 21; Rom. x, 14; xii, 3; I Cor. i, 17; xii, 9; Gal. iii, 1; Phil. iii, 9; Eph. ii, 8; I Thess. i, 3; Heb. xi, 1; xii, 2; I Pet. i, 1; Jude 20.

Christian Endeavor Notes.

Birmingham, England, now has 23 societies.

The society in Wilson college, Chambersburg, Pa., has given $80 for a scholarship in the girls' school, Baranquilla, in Colombia, South America.

"Young People's Society of Crime Extension" is a happy interpretation of "P. S. C. E."

Every member of the Chinese Congregational Christian Endeavor society of Fresno, Cal., is on the lookout committee, and before each meeting they go through the lanes and alleys of Chinatown inviting their friends to the prayer meeting.

The Hope Baptist Church society of Cardiff, Wales, although only seven months old, has a most successful open air mission band, which is doing splendid service.

The Victorian and Tasmanian Wesleyan societies have raised the entire sum needed for the construction and outfit of The Endeavor, the Australian Wesleyan missionary whaler.

The Lyford Street society of Ballarat gave $25.

Utah, the hardest mission field in the world, formed last year 55 new societies, a gain of 30 per cent.

JUSTICE METED OUT

Judge Lewis Passes Sentences on the Prisoners Convicted at the September Term of Court.

John Sviokaski Got the Longest Term of Years for Grand Larceny in the Second Degree.

William Toggart, Who Beat His Horse's Brains Out, Must Languish in Jail for Six Months.

The prisoners convicted at this term of district court were sentenced by Judge Lewis this morning. It was not generally known that they would be brought up today and there were few spectators present. Even the county attorney was not on hand. The court waited a few minutes and then opened the hall without him.

The biggest dose was administered to John Sviokaski who was convicted of grand larceny in the second degree. He was sentenced to the state penitentiary at Stillwater for three years at hard labor.

Andrew Wilson, convicted of the same degree of larceny, was sent to Stillwater for two years.

John Traynor, assault in the third degree, was sentenced to a fine of $100 or ninety days in the county jail.

John Carney, for petty larceny, received the same sentence.

William Toggart, the hot-headed individual who cruelly beat a horse to death, will languish six months in the county jail unless he can raise money to pay a fine of $250, which is not likely.

The value of the horse was placed at $150 by the jury.

William Arscio, grand larceny in the second degree, will labor at the penitentiary for two years.

Leslie Pikkariinen, alias Pinkerton, alias Whitey, who shot one of his tormentors at West Duluth and was convicted of assault in the second degree with a recommendation to the court's mercy, was sentenced to St. Cloud on the reformatory plan.

Yesterday afternoon Judge Ensign rendered judgment for the defendant in William McKinley against Arcade L. Belliveau. The case of John Kasby against Albert Young et al. was stricken from the calendar. James Dougan against James Turner et al. was continued by stipulation.

The Special Calendar.
Both judges were working in the special calendar this morning. They got a late start and as the first cases were rather long only the following have been disposed of at noon.

John J. Boder, against William Schraumb et al., injunction denied and order to show cause discharged.

A. F. Hunteon against A. Rockwell, Demurrer overruled, defendant has 10 days to answer.

W. H. Consul et al. against George A. Elder continued.

The Setting of Cases.
The following setting of cases has been made:

Monday—25, 35, 43, 46, 47, 51, 54, 57.
Tuesday—38, 60, 63, 65, 67, 69, 72, 73.
Wednesday—83, (88 to 92) 93-94, 98, 102, 107.

THE HAYDEN INVESTIGATION.
Nearly All Testimony Was Directed Against Walker's Private Character.

The Walker-Hayden investigation was resumed this morning before his honor Mayor d'Autremont. Detective Tom Hayden testified in his own behalf.

The line of the defense is a general denial of the charges brought by Baldwin Walker, and the introduction of testimony as to the habits and standing of the complainant, which evidence, to say the least, is racy and not very much to the credit of Walker.

William Hellman, the restaurant keeper, testified that Walker had boarded and lodged with him for about a year and owed him about $300 for board and money lent; also that he had to tell him to get out as he could "hold him up" no longer. Previous to this he was obliged to tell Walker that he must quit bringing women into the house, as the other boarders were complaining. Mr. Hellman also gave the details of a peculiar land transaction that he entered into with Walker, who sold him some claims in unurveyed territory and charged him a stiff price for them.

Mr. Hellman claimed to be very tired of Mr. Walker and his peculiar business methods.

Tom Hayden created some amusement by testifying as to the character of the house of ill-fame that Walker is said to have frequented. It appears that the police tried for three nights to raid the house and catch the inmates, but two big watch dogs effectually prevented this by giving an alarm every time any one approached the house.

"You were not afraid of the dogs, were you?" asked the mayor.

"No-o," said Tom in a peculiar tone, "but—" and here everybody laughed and Tom's rosy cheeks took on a deeper hue.

It looks very much as though the dogs did hold the fort against the gallant bluecoats. After thoroughly ventilating Mr. Walker's character and antecedents the investigation was adjourned for the production of some further testimony.

DON'T BE A DYSPEPTIC

Wonderful Cure Effectuated in the Case of Chronic Stomach Trouble.

Thousands of People Suffer From Diseased Digestive Organs When There is no Reason Why They Should, Except Negligence.

The most common of ailments is indigestion.

The stomach is the furnace and the heater. It generates the steam and supplies the motive power. But, supposing the fuel you put into it won't burn?

Well, you must have the furnace put in good order again. A bottle of medicine won't do this. Liver, kidney or bowel regulators won't do it.

What will?

Intelligent, careful, well-applied medical treatment by a physician who makes a specialty of it. The sufferer must be prescribed for as his condition changes. He must be handled scientifically, until the obstinate, stubborn disease he has been unable to get relief from is completely conquered and driven out of the system.

Now, Drs. Copeland, Hunt and Drenning do not confine themselves to saying what they can do. They make it a point to show what they can do; hence they never fail to produce a new testimonial from some citizen of Duluth, who affords in his own case absolute proof that what they say they do.

A SEVERE CASE.

Cataract of the Nose, Throat and Stomach.
Mr. Newell is employed as coachman for Mr. H. M. Peyton, at the corner of Fourteenth avenue east and Superior street. He describes his many years of misery from catarrhal troubles until his recent course of treatment by the Copeland physicians, in these words:

"Copeland and his associates I was in a miserable condition, having suffered for many years with a cataract of the head and stomach. My trouble began with a cataract of the nose, which later extended to the stomach. At first my nose would stop up so I could not get air through it.

"There was a thin, watery secretion passing from my nose that kept me continually applying my handkerchief. At times my hearing was attacked, sounds seeming dull and indistinct. Mucus would drop from my nose into my throat, where it would collect and require a great deal of hawking and spitting to remove. My stomach became affected by the catarrhal poison; it never felt good, but troubled me at all times, especially after eating. The food I ate would lie on my stomach and feel like a weight pulling me down to the ground.

Instead of digesting, my food would ferment and cause a bloating of the stomach and belching of gas and sour matter. I was always constipated, my tongue was coated and there was a bad taste in my mouth. Although I seemed to sleep well enough at night, I awoke in the morning as tired as though I had not been to bed at all.

"The Copeland system of treatment has completely mastered all my distressing symptoms and removed the catarrhal poison from my system. The treatment I received was beneficial from the start and I can heartily recommend it to any who suffer as I did."

CLUBS FOR YOUNG MEN

The Zenith City Well Supplied With These Pleasant and Very Necessary Social Organizations.

Duluth Club Was the First to Spring Into Existence and Is Now Very Popular.

The Bohemians Have Bright and Cheerful Rooms--The Catholic Club on West Fourth Street.

Cooler weather is strengthening in those who are fortunate enough to be members of any such organization, that keen appreciation of the club comfort afforded by congenial club life. The excursions, pastimes and relaxations of summer draw heavily on club attendance and interest, but winter arrives that attendance and interest with increased vigor.

Duluth has several clubs that keep pace with the city's growth and development and fully deserve the sustained interest in their work.

Nearly a gross of the city's younger business and professional men round out the long winter evenings at the Duluth club. The very shingles of the neat little home at 222 West Second street speak solid comfort and perfect peace to all who enter it. The building was formerly the annex of the Kitchi Gami--an organization including more properly the older business men of the city--when that club held forth in Mrs. Little's house. It was purchased for $10,000, moved across the street to a leased lot where it was in a measure remodelled and thoroughly renovated to meet its present needs. The building is a large, two-story house and 25 by 30 feet, not counting an extension necessary for the requirement of a new wing.

Entering through the front door the vestibule gives directly into the reading room which is comfortably furnished and contains an ample fireplace for the cheerfulness. On tables are kept the current magazines, and periodicals and daily papers. In the rear of this apartment lighter by a large bay window along which runs a wide and comfortable window seat, is the billiard room. There are also a billiard and two pool tables. Here also is the cigar stand. Liquors are strictly tabooed. The front room is given up to card and chess tables. Adjoining this is the rear is the music room and back of that the writing room, both pleasantly furnished and well equipped for their purposes. In the basement is the bowling alley.

The Duluth club was organized in February 1892, largely through the efforts of Bishop Barker, of Western Colorado, who was then rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church. Mr. Barker was anxious for the establishment of a club house to promote social intercourse among the young men and the organization which he fostered has since grown into one of the pleasantest of Duluth's institutions.

Mr. Barker was the first president of the club. When he resigned, being called to the bishopric of Western Colorado, J. C. Hunter was elected in his stead and still holds the office. T. C. Moore is secretary, and Charles E. Kenzie treasurer. These officers together with O. C. Hartman, W. M. Prindle, C. P. Frank and George H. Hughes constitute the board of directors who govern the club.

The Bohemians. The Bohemians, an organization of about six or eight months ago, organized given at Boyle Bros. immediately after the production at the Lyceum of Komos and Letos, an operetta in three acts arranged by Charlie Eldridge. In the cast were eighteen young men, all of whom became charter members of the club and several other members have since joined.

The officers elected at the organization were: President, Charles Eldridge; vice-president, J. V. Quillard, Jr.; treasurer and business manager, Arthur W. Little, secretary, Ernest Hancgan; musical director, Arthur E. Miller; stage manager, Arthur E. Miller. The following in addition to those named as officers are members of the club: Harry C. Gahrhardt, John Noves, Stephen Jones, C. A. Towne, Fred C. Morris, Dr. S. J. C. Murphy, Nick Murphy, Bert E. Frederick Reynolds, R. J. Powell, Joseph Davis, Norton Mattocks, Charles F. MacDonald, Frank Ansin.

The Bohemians, on a host of objects amusement and the development of dramatic or musical ability. It is the intention to give probably three entertainments during the winter and perhaps several concerts besides. Then the members are ever ready to lend their aid to any charitable entertainments and they are in frequent demand.

The club rooms in the Mesaba block are handsomely furnished. They are open to members at all times and in addition to rehearsals of work in preparation and regular monthly meetings there are many gatherings when the time is pleasantly passed in the lines most agreeable to the company. Next month a reception and musicale will be held to give the ladies an opportunity to see the club rooms.

club. In the absence of Mr. Quillard, the leading comedy work will probably devolve upon Ernest Hancgan, who is ever and talented and has excellent experience, playing doubles with Mr. Quillard. Thus Mr. Hancgan, there is no better director of music in the country. He has considerable histrionic ability also and is enthusiastic and painstaking to the fullest degree. The chorus is excellent--as good as can be found anywhere. In fact there is any quantity of cleverness among the Bohemians.

The first performance after the organization of the club was at the Lyceum on May 30 of this year. "King of the Canibals" was given, a farce, entitled "L'Enfer Parle Français," were given with the assistance of Miss McKenzie and Mesdames George and West. The Bohemians scored a hit and they will keep on scoring hits and having dead loads of fun for many a day.

The Catholic Club. The Catholic club has just about completed the first year of its life, having sprung into existence in 1892. Its organization was first suggested by Bishop McGonigle and Rev. Father Corbett and was immediately taken up by the Catholic young men of the city. O. C. Hartman was elected president; Dr. J. McAniff, vice president; D. G. White, secretary, and T. J. Monahan, treasurer. Mr. Hartman shortly afterward left the city for several months and was succeeded by J. A. Macneil, the present secretary. These officers, with the directors, manage the affairs of the club.

The club rooms are at 212 West Fourth street and are elegantly fitted up and furnished. On the first floor is a large parlor, containing a piano, and in the rear of this the reading room, a very cosy and cheerful place. On the second floor are the billiard and pool and the card rooms. In the basement are the bowling alleys. During last winter and the spring a number of socials were given and became very popular among the friends of the club members. Little parties will be resumed. Several bowling teams have been organized and two play against each other almost every week. The club has a large number of some of the best bowlers in the city.

There is one impression which should not be allowed to gain ground--that this is a church club. It is controlled and managed by the members exclusively and while the church authorities are allowed to have members, they have no more voice in its affairs than any other members.

The annual meeting of the club will be held the 15th inst. Its financial condition is of the best and its membership numbers about 200.

THIRSTING FOR VENGEANCE. The Spaniards Anxious to Get Even With the Moors.

MADRID, Oct. 7.--The financial questions attending the despatch of troops to Malaga to punish the Moors who a few days ago attacked the small Spanish garrison at that place, have caused the finance ministry to make a close examination of the resources available for a punitive expedition.

Senor Canazo, the minister of finance, yesterday informed Queen Regent Christina that owing to an increase of 10,000 pesetas in the revenue, due to the new taxation scheme, the treasury had a revenue of 90,000 pesetas available for an expedition to Morocco if the government decided it necessary to send.

The deepest indignation everywhere prevails at the attempted massacre of Melilla. Patriotic masters call upon all men capable of bearing arms to offer their services to the government. The desire for vengeance upon the Moors for the recent overhauls the excitement caused by the attempt of Pallas to kill Gen. Martinez de Campos and the discovery of anarchist plots.

At Malaga one of the important military stations, hundreds of men crowd into the barracks and the prefecture, begging that they be enrolled as volunteers to fight the Moors. The soldiers of the regular army are equally anxious to be ordered to active service in Morocco. The Moroccan garrison of 400 troops forming the Spanish garrison at Melilla is universally applauded.

Those who know the war-like character of the people inhabiting the mountains and the fury of their easily aroused fanaticism express surprise that the natives did not succeed in taking the city by assault by the power of the overwhelming numbers. If they had had any artillery, there is hardly a question that the garrison would have been put to the sword, while the young women would have been taken as slaves by their captors.

SITUATION IN BRAZIL. Denial of the Story of Rio's Further Bombardment. LONDON, Oct. 7.--The reporter of the United Press had an interview yesterday with the secretary of the Brazilian legation in this city with reference to the situation in Brazil. The secretary declared that many of the sensational reports purporting to describe the situation at Rio were utterly unreliable and were often specially manufactured.

He added that the legation had received dispatches yesterday from Rio Janeiro, that these dispatches made no reference whatever to a renewed bombardment of the city by the rebel admiral's fleet, to the capture of a steamer by the rebels, or taking of civilians. If these occurrences or any of them were true, the legation's dispatches would certainly have mentioned them.

The Senate Advised. ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.--The board of directors of the Merchants exchange yesterday sent the following telegram to the senate at Washington: "Permit us to urge prompt repeal of purchasing clause of the Sherman law, as business is being hurt more and more depressed by the delay, and damage to the national interest of the country can hardly be estimated."

Hannis Taylor Better. MADRID, Oct. 7.--The Hon. Hannis Taylor, American minister to Spain, who has been suffering with a severe cold ever since his return from San Sebastian, is now much better.

CHIPMAN'S NEW DRAMA

"The Journalists" Will Be Given Its First Production in Duluth Tonight at the Temple.

The Play Is Highly Commended and the Character of the Company Assures a Fine Performance.

Carroll Johnson, the Singing Comedian, to Appear on Tuesday Next in "The Irish Statesman."

Tonight will witness the first production in Duluth of Fred J. Chipman's play, "The Journalists," and the Temple will undoubtedly be crowded. It is comedy drama and has an interesting plot, which is harmoniously and cleverly brought out and developed. The situations are said to be ingeniously conceived and the climax is striking. It has more or less to do with newspaper life and Mr. Chipman's experience in the profession has given him most of the ideas and characters which he has introduced. It is not a newspaper play, however, as many people would believe, it is a society drama and is of no more interest to newspapermen than the general public.

The company which will present "The Journalists" has been well chosen and includes several names well known in the profession. The following are in the cast: Hal Newton Carlyle, late of the "Silver King" company; Edgar Baum, formerly with "The Prince Secrecy"; Thomas J. Miles, comedian, formerly with "The Prince Secrecy"; William J. Butler, formerly with "The Prince Secrecy"; Miss May Bell, formerly with "The Prince Secrecy"; formerly with Daniel Frohman's "Charity Bells"; Clara Leroy-Marion, from William Barry's "McKenna's Stratagem" company; Myrtle Helen Dow, from "Men and Women"; Emily Lotrop, late of the Modjeska company; and Charles Gorman, from "A Night Off" company.

FELL UPON UNHAPPY DAYS. The Rise and Fall of the Once Famous New York Casino.

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.--The mere fact of going back to original principles does not of itself compel success in casino operations. Many a man who has been successful in business, anyone who may feel inclined to dispute this statement can have all his money set at rest, I think, in a very few moments by Mr. Henry Hill, the present manager of the Casino in this city. His opinion is more than ordinarily valuable, for he is in a position to speak from experience. When "Ernie" and other notable operators were running at the Casino, there was a sort of impression that the place was a success, in which Hill's reception of an operator was its production at that house. This was in a large measure.

Mr. Hill's plan is rather a novel one. She will be preceded from town to town by a troupe of musicians, who will play the latest of the popular songs, and will have letters of introduction to the prominent people in every city she visits and will therefore be sure of a cordial hearing at least. Besides the troupe of musicians, who will play the latest of the popular songs, and will have letters of introduction to the prominent people in every city she visits and will therefore be sure of a cordial hearing at least. ## HUNTING FOR RICHES.

Some of the Mining Crazes That Have Affected Duluth Are Recalled By an Eyewitness.

Twice Have People Rushed Headlong to the Vermilion Range in Search of Precious Metals.

How a Man Found One So Rich He Had to Sack It For Safe Transit.

History repeats itself. And so do mining crazes. The Lake Superior mining region is known the world over for its marvelous production of copper and high grade iron ores, but with a few exceptions noted hereafter, no deposits of the precious minerals have been discovered that have had really a permanent value. Nevertheless periodical mining excitements have broken out in this region and while landing some people in the poorhouse, they have lifted the more lucky ones to comparative affluence, and of some of these periods of treasure madness a short account is here given.

Let us pass over the first finds of copper and iron upon the upper peninsula of Michigan, as these finds were really so valuable that it is by no means strange that they favored the imagination of those who realized their immense worth, and let us come down to the alleged discovery of gold upon Vermilion lake, near the present site of the Vermilion range. It was in 1854, when a man named John H. Miller, a native of New York, came to the Vermilion range, and pushed forward to the new Eldorado. Near the mouth of the Vermilion river, in 1856, he built the town of Winston, erected a stamp mill, sawmill, assay offices, stores, residences, but they never found any gold.

Of this first settlement in the Vermilion region nothing now remains but a few mounds to mark the site of some of the larger structures, and here and there remains of a stone fireplace. Yet Geo. R. Stuntz, William Nettleton, J. D. Ray, the Vashon Bros. and others who have been in the old settlers, can spin many a wild and woolly yarn about the "doings" they and at Winston. Around the shores of the lake, wherever one of the numerous outcroppings of quartz occurred, tests and shafts sunk and even heavy machinery was hauled to the site. Then there was a hull for awhile, but not for long. One day Father Genin, a parish priest of Duluth, thought that he had made a valuable discovery. He went, right within the city limits. He interested his parishioners and lots of others and tracts were purchased and leased by the wholesale. At a stated price the priest undertook to show his find, but unfortunately although all the "surface" indications were present, the first few blows of the pick disclosed "only these and nothing more." Father Genin retired from the mining business a sadder but wiser man, and a good many of his flock shared in his sadness and wisdom. He was undoubtedly sincere in his belief, but he was not aware of the strange tricks that "surface indications" play upon the explorer.

Shortly before this the famous rock, now known as Silver Island, had been found just across the boundary in Canada waters. The rush to Thunder bay began. Several really good pockets of rich silver ore, besides one silver sister deposit, were found and some twenty or thirty mines and prospects were soon in blast around the shore of Thunder bay. Prince Arthur's Landing sprang into existence, consisted at first of twenty-three saloons, one hotel, one bakery, and a number of houses and a jail and many numbers of other buildings. Men were plentiful, but women and children, except aboriginal, were almost unknown quantities. Everybody carried around one or two pockets of "good looking rock," and a new comer, who did not own at least one bonanza mine within a week of landing, was looked upon as a pusillanimous fellow and an enemy to the country. The great Lake Superior tin avalanche was concocted and afterwards exposed at Thunder bay.

The Cornish mine "salting," by which a posse of tenderfoot lost about $125,000 at one clatter, is still fresh in the minds of many Lake Superior men and various other methods were used to impose upon the credulity or greed of the inexperienced mining matters. But silver had its day, and then some genius went up country and found a stream whose sands disclosed those of the fabled Pactolus. Helter skelter went everybody to the "diggins" only to come back busted, ragged and awfully thirsty. It is curious to remember how thirsty we all were in those days. Although we had all of Lake Superior to quench our thirst, there seemed to be a tacit understanding that out of a keg or a bottle any concoction would choke you and make your eyes fill with tears, and thus we cured our thirst by creating another.

Some time in 1878 the famous Rabbit Mountain mine was discovered and the deposit together with Silver Island, the Beaver mine, the Ladger and perhaps one or two smaller finds were really the only properties that were ever worked around a thunder bay, and now work on every one of these properties is closed down and the mines themselves placed upon the list of retired lists.

In 1880 George C. Stone established the fact that Minnesota was to be a great iron mining state and the rush for iron lands began early the next year. Many valuable discoveries were made upon the Vermilion range during the next two years, among them the Chandler, Pioneer, Zenith, Macomber, Anderson and others. But people were not content with the slow but sure iron mines; they wanted gold and accordingly some accommodating individuals undertook to supply their boon. A second absurd note to look back upon the gold mining craze of 1885. Solid, level-headed citizens of Duluth mortgaged their homes to invest of the state thiers were said to be rich in gold. People talked of mountains of gold and a portable assay furnace was to be found in nine business blocks out of ten, around which would toil an army of amateur assayers and mining experts and fearful and wonderful were the results that they obtained. One typical case may be quoted--that of Silver City. This was a location situated a short distance east of where it stands today. There was a small vein there highly mineralized with pyrites. This rock was assayed by a man named Nightingale, who lived near Oscoda, Mich., and he produced such tremendous results that H. M. Loud, a millionaire lumberman of Oscoda, determined to buy a controlling interest in the mine and to get rich quick. He went to Tower, sent out an outfit and men, cut out thirty miles of road to the mine and started to haul the "ore" in sleighs piled ready for shipment over the Duluth & Iron Range railroad.

That "ore" has since been utilized to mend the roads around the depot at Oscoda. Mr. Loud, that when he was making arrangements for the shipment of his treasure, he informed the Iron Range people that he was so rich that he would be obliged to sack it and that afterwards he would pay to burn the sacks so as to extract from the ashes the mineral that had been pulverized into dust during transit. This was an actual fact and the state affairs continued until the spring of 1885 when the Emery Bros., of Saginaw, some of the heaviest investors in the new gold fields, brought some experts from Colorado, who picked the bubble in short order and sent dismay to many a heart. Since then Duluth people have been very shy of gold mining enterprises, and very few have ventured anything more than an occasional flutter into the seductive speculation of mining precious metals.

After the tremendous discoveries of iron upon the Mesaba range, it was only natural that a few, who did not catch on to any great extent then, should seek to make a strike then, and that Portage gold, Sudbury nickel and Sudbury gold mines have all had their share of attention. Some of the old Thunder bay strikes have been dug up and attempts made to galvanize them into life, but they have not proved winning cards.

The latest discoveries come from Rainy lake and some good-looking ore is shown, but as no developments have been made on these latest finds it is impossible to say at present whether they are good, bad or only indifferent.

HE OPPOSED MAYNARD. The Nomination of Hill's Friend Vigorously Opposed. SARA TOGA, Oct. 7.--There was a sensation in the Democratic convention yesterday when Robert Weideman, of Rockland, arose to oppose the nomination of Maynard for justice of the peace of Ansonia. Weideman was hissed and jeered, but held his ground and spoke earnestly and trust the nomination. Every sentence was punctuated with cries of derision and shouts of "put him out!" Police Justice Grady defended Mr. Maynard. Finally a vote was taken and Mr. Weideman was the only one recorded in the negative. Mr. Weideman, however, moved that the nomination be made unanimous and the incident came to an end.

The world's comes in for continued attention in the century in the shape of a biographical sketch of Frederick Law Olmsted, the original plan of the parks and buildings of the city, and other pieces of landscape gardening. This paper is written by Mrs. Schuyler ray, and is a valuable addition to the recently published discussion of landscape gardening in America.
